THE PRESIDENT RIDING THROUGH WEST VIRGINIA

Owing to Accident, Looks as He Says, Like a Beaten Boxer.

WILL HUNT LIONS IN COLORADO WILDS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 5.—President Roosevelt and his party are now speeding westward over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and are expected to reach Wheeling at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. The special train bearing the presidential party left this city at 7:32 o'clock this evening. The president was here only about an hour and a quarter, his train from New York arriving at 6:12 this evening.

Looking "like a beaten prize fighter," as he expressed it, on the private car Oceanic, the president and his party left the Jersey City station of the Pennsylvania railroad at 1 o'clock this afternoon for Washington. The president came from Oyser Bay on the government yacht Sylph, arriving in New York about noon. He was accompanied from his home by Mrs. Roosevelt and their children, Ethel, Kermit and Archie. They did not leave the yacht, but bade the president goodbye and returned to Oyster Bay.

Cortelyou Shows Bruises.

Aboard the yacht with the president were Secretary Cortelyou, showing the effects of the experience in which he and the president so narrowly escaped serious injury, and Stenographers Latta and Weaver. The president was met, when the party landed from launches, by Dr. Lung, who accompanies the party on the trip.

There was a good-sized crowd at the river in New York to greet the president when he stepped ashore from the launch. It was a very much disfigured face that met their gaze as they looked at the nation's chief executive. His face around the injured eye is swollen and the bruises by this time present a black and blue cast. Drawn rather far down over his face, as if he wished to hide his bruises, the president wore his slouch hat. He raised it, however, when the crowd, gathered at the landing, cheered.

After the president had entered his car he was visited by Gen. James S. Clarkson, formerly chairman of the Republican national committee, now surveyor of the port of New York. At the Jersey City station was Mrs. Cortelyou, mother of the president's secretary, and Mr. Cortelyou's brother. This is the first time the mother, an aged woman, has seen her son since the accident.

More Kingly Congratulations.

Additional messages of congratulation from abroad to the president upon his escape from serious injury in the accident at Pittsfield, Mass., were received today from King Edward of England, the sultan of Turkey, the king of Portugal and the president of Guatemala.

HARPERS FERRY, W. VA., Sept. 5.—President Roosevelt's special train passed this point at 9:01 p. m.

MARTINSBURG, W. VA., Sept. 5.—The Baltimore & Ohio special train bearing President Roosevelt and party arrived here at 9:30 and left four minutes later.

PIEDMONT, W. VA., Sept. 6.—The president's special train passed this point at 12:48 a. m.

STEAMERS IN COLLISION.

Pittsburgh Coal Company Tug Runs Foul of Show Boat, Causing Panic.

CARBONDALE, ILL., Sept. 5.—The towboat Sprague, belonging to the Pittsburgh Coal Company, collided today with the steamboat Floating Palace, at Grand Tower, Ill. The show boat was damaged and a portion of it shoved on the bank, while the remainder rests beneath the water. It was nearly time to give a performance on the Floating Palace and about 100 people were aboard.

When the collision occurred a panic ensued. Men and women jumped from the upper windows and several persons nearly lost their lives.

Threats were made of lynching the captain of the Sprague and several shots were fired at the boat. She was coming down stream at full speed and became unmanageable just before reaching the steamboat.

MINERS RETURN TO WORK.

West Virginia Diggers Anxious to Resume Operations—New River Strike May Be Declared Off.

KEYSTONE, W. VA., Sept. 5.—(Special.)—Miners, who had been on strike in the Pocahontas coald fields since June, reported for duty this morning. Next Monday was the day agreed upon, but the strikers by hundreds stated that they would rather begin at once and were allowed to do so. The output of coal today was twice as much as during any day since the strike began.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Sept. 5.—It is rumored here that the Kanawha and New River strike will be declared off at once, and that the Chesapeake & Ohio road has ordered all equipment rushed back into the coal fields.

THE VOLCANIC DUST FROM SOUFRIERE DARKENS OCEAN

So Thick That Ship Officers in Antilles Could Not See Each Other Only Two Feet Away.

VALUABLE PLANTATIONS WIPED OUT BY ERUPTION

Castries, Island of St. Lucia, Sept. 5.—The latest eruption of Mont Pelee on September 3, it turns out, was not remarkable, but there was a terrific explosion from the Soufriere, on the island of St. Vincent, on that day.

The captain of the steamer Savan, now here, confirms the report cabled last night, that she ran into dense clouds of dust when 20 miles southwest of St. Vincent at 2 o'clock on the morning of Wednesday. He adds that absolute darkness prevailed soon afterward, and that he changed his course to due west to avoid the ashes which were falling thick.

The first officer could not see the captain two feet away, and only knew him by his voice. They did not see the sun until about 10 a. m. the same day.

The steamer Yare further reports that several more valuable plantations were destroyed at the time of the recent outbreak, in addition to the townships referred to in previous dispatches, and says the anxiety and dejection of the surviving population is general.

A Misapprehension Corrected.

The report brought by the royal mail steamer Yare, which arrived here yesterday evening from Martinique, of the loss of 2,000 lives through the recent outbreak of Mont Pelee referred to the deaths since August 30, and not to the loss of life resulting from the reported outbreak of Wednesday, September 3.

PARIS, Sept. 5.—The minister of colonies has ordered the evacuation of the whole of the north of the island of Martinique. Decision regarding the south of the island is reserved, but it is expected the inhabitants of that portion of the island will remain, unless the dormant volcanoes there show signs of activity. In this case evacuation of the whole island will be ordered.

A cable dispatch from the island of Guadeloupe announces the arrival of the French cruiser Suchet at Basse-Terre, capital of Guadeloupe, and says that she reports calm has been restored in Martinique.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—"I am seriously alarmed at the news of the renewed activity of the Martinique and St. Vincent volcanoes," said Louis H. Ayme, United States consul at Guadeloupe, who is in Chicago on sick leave.

"Should Mont Pelee blow its head off the loss of life consequent upon the production of a great tidal wave would be appalling. With Pelee as a center, a chain of islands extends northwestward, embracing a population of some 750,000 persons. With few exceptions all cities and villages are situated along the coast and but slightly elevated above the sea. A tidal wave 40 feet high would probably destroy a half million lives before it dashed against the shores of Porto Rico with its million inhabitants.

"There is also apparently grave danger that other long-extinct volcanoes may break out. The great Soufriere of Guadaloupe has been active for centuries, discharging a vast column of sulphur charged steam from the old summit crater. This may have acted as a sort of safety valve, but if, as reports seem to indicate, the seismic forces are increasing in intensity, this volcano and others along the line of seismic weakness marked by the island chain may soon be rivaling Pelee.

Island Seems Doomed.

"The people of these islands are in a hard situation. Their communication with the outer world depends chiefly on a single line of steamers which call at intervals of from ten days to three weeks at some of the islands when freight offers. The whole fleet of this line, to which the ill-fated Roraima belonged, could not carry 3,000 persons.

"The island of Martinique seems to be doomed. It will not be possible to persuade its people to remain there if they can get away. Guadaloupe, where my consulate is situated, is in even worse predicament. It is staggering under a tremendous debt which it cannot pay; its cane plantations are being abandoned and its business men retiring. It is the natural refuge of the fleeing people of Martinique and will have these terrified and starving thousands thrown upon its already inadequate resources."

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 5.—Relatives of Prof. Angelo Heilprin of this city, the noted explorer and scientist, have received a telegram announcing his safety on the island of Martinique. It had been feared that he had perished in the last eruption of Mont Pelee.

MAY ORDER OUT MORE SOLDIERS

Gov. Stone Has Been Advised That Riot and Mob Violence Exist in Carbon County. Sheriff to Be Given Aid.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, Sept. 5.—The following general order was issued this afternoon from the headquarters of the National Guard of Pennsylvania:

"The sheriff of Carbon county, having advised the governor of his inability to preserve order and to protect life and property, and the governor being satisfied upon investigation that tumult, riot and mob violence do exist, the major general commanding the division, National Guard of Pennsylvania, will make such disposition of the troops now on duty in Schuylkill county, or will place such additional troops on duty as in his judgment is necessary to properly assist the sheriff of Carbon county in restoring and maintaining peace and order.

"The major general commanding the division will report his action fully to these headquarters.

"By order of "WM. A. STONE,
"Governor and Commander-in-Chief.
"THOMAS J. STEWART, Adjt. General."

Governor Stone today fixed next Thursday to meet a committee appointed by the People's Alliance at Hazleton yesterday to discuss the best means of ending the anthracite coal strike.

TAMAQUA, PA., Sept. 5.—The non-union men in the Panther Creek valley again went to work today without an escort. Maj. Gearhart, in command of the troops, says that so long as the strikers do not interfere with the non-union men he will not send any of his soldiers out on patrol duty.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The anthracite coal shipments to the United States are the result of orders which have been coming in for the last fortnight. There are probably 20,000 to 30,000 tons contracted for immediate shipment to New York, which demands 5,000 tons daily. The dealers, however, prefer to serve their regular customers and cannot possibly supply 2,000 tons daily. The prices range from $5 50 to $7 50 per ton, free on board, at Swansea, Wales.

Miss McAteer Won.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—The second day's play at the Kenwood courts in the women's tournament of the Western Lawn Tennis association brought out some tennis playing of championship quality. Miss McAteer of Pittsburgh and Miss Closterman won from Mrs. Thorndike and partner by default.

ITINERARIES OF THE CANDIDATES

State Committees of Both Parties Are Preparing for Them—Pennypacker's Tour Begins September 25.

By CHESTER D. POTTER,
Staff Correspondent.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 5.—Judge Pennypacker's tour of the state probably will begin September 25 and close November 1. Secretary W. R. Andrews of the Republican state committee made this announcement today. The final meetings will be held in Philadelphia. J. Allen Leeds, who had charge of the Quay itinerary two years ago, will again act as pilot and commissary.

Two meetings will be held before the formal opening. Judge Pennypacker, Senator Penrose, Charles Emory Smith and Adjt.-Gen. Thomas J. Stewart will address the "Patrons of Husbandry" at Center Hall, Center county, September 16, going thence to Erie, where they will speak September 18 at the State League of Republican clubs convention. After Erie it is the intention of Judge Pennypacker to rest until the regular schedule is made up.

The Democratic stumping tour will start September 15, and from that time on will be a continuous performance. Former State Chairman John S. Rilling today gave the first week's itinerary. It is:

Monday, September 15—McConnellsburg, Fulton county, day speeches.

Tuesday—Mercersburg, Greencastle and Chambersburg, night meeting at Waynesboro, all in Franklin county.

Wednesday—Daylight speeches at Shippensburg, Newville, Carlisle and Mechanicsburg, all in Cumberland county. Evening meeting at Harrisburg.

Thursday—Grange meeting, Center Hall, Center county; night meeting at Huntingdon.

Friday—Lewistown, Mifflin county; Everett, Bedford county, night meeting at Bedford.

Saturday—Tyrone, Hollidaysburg; night meeting at Altoona.

City Chairman Charles Donnelly and County Commissioner Thomas J. Ryan, who, with a large party of friends, went yesterday to Reading to attend the notification meeting, failed to participate in that ceremony. They returned to Philadelphia on an early train and their friends came with them. The Reading admirers of Gov. Pattison, who had charge of the banquet, failed to include the Philadelphia delegation in the list of eligibles.

ROOSEVELT THINKS STRIKE MAY BE SETTLED AMICABLY.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, Sept. 5.—The Record tomorrow will print an interview on the coal strike with President Roosevelt, who passed through this city today on his way to Washington. The president is quoted as follows:

"I am grieved beyond measure at the difficulty in Pennsylvania and other coal-producing states over the wage and kindred questions."

"What remedy is at hand?" he was asked.

"There is a remedy," said the president.

"Do you mean that the government of the United States can interfere other than as a law-preserving body?"

"No," replied the president, emphatically.

"What can be done?" was then asked.

"I would refer you to the men at the head of the party who are in control of affairs in Pennsylvania. I am sure that their conservative opinion of the difficulties rampant will ultimately result in an amicable settlement of this great question. Of course, politics do not enter into the mining problem. It is my hope that the Republican party will level the problem to an equity."

STATE SENATOR H. H. CUMINGS.

BLACKMAILING IS ALLEGED IN SUIT OF HODGE

Counsel for Steel Corporation Makes Charge of Conspiracy.

MOTION IS MADE TO DISMISS CASE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Newark, N. J., Sept. 5.—Vice Chancellor Emery gave a hearing today in the suit brought by J. Aspinwall Hodge and others for an injunction to restrain the United States Steel Corporation from carrying out its plan to retire $200,000,000 of preferred stock and to issue $250,000,000 of 5 per cent bonds.

P. V. Lindabury of counsel for the defendant moved for an order directing the complainants to come into court to be cross-examined as to what prompted them to bring the suit, as to who was back of it, and as to the motive of the suit, and to be cross-examined on questions touching their stock holdings. In asking for the order he claimed that Bernard Smith and W. H. Curtis, who are named as co-complainants with Hodge, are practically out of the case, as they held no stock that had not been voted for the bonding plan when the action was brought, and that they were acting for a third person—David H. Lamar.

Mr. Lindabury also moved for an order to have the case stricken from the records of the court as an imposition. He declared that he and his associate counsel, William D. Guthrie and Charles H. Corbin, were prepared to show by their own affidavits that the suit was a blackmailing scheme and a conspiracy, with Lamar as chief conspirator.

Mr. Lindabury then presented an affidavit of Joseph E. Corrigan, a clerk in the office of Guthrie, Cravath & Henderson, reporting a conversation he had with James H. Lancaster, who had made an affidavit when the suit was brought in regard to the valuation of the steel plants. Lancaster, Corrigan averred, told him that he had received $100 for the affidavit, not knowing it was to be used in the suit against the steel corporation. According to Corrigan, Lancaster claimed that Lamar told him that he would pay him $250 a week to keep quiet, and $10,000 when the suit should be settled, not later than November 1, 1902.

Mr. Lindabury claimed that what he had already shown to the court was sufficient for the dismissal of the case.

Robert H. McCarter, for the plaintiffs, questioned the right of the court to dismiss the case at the present stage.

Mr. Lindabury argued in favor of the court's right of dismissal and quoted several decisions in support of his view of the matter.

Mr. McCarter, in replying to Mr. Lindabury, characterized the strictures regarding the good faith of the complainants as unwarranted and uncalled for. He declared that the time for making the motion to dismiss had passed, and that it was made to sidetrack the suit and to prolong the issue. He then read an affidavit by James H. Lancaster, filed August 29, in which denial was made of the allegations in the Corrigan affidavit.

Vice Chancellor Emery said the applications and motions made by the defendant involved important questions, and that he would make no decision without careful consideration.

"On the point that a special investigation of the bona fides of the case ought to be entered into," said the vice chancellor, "I shall withhold my decision until next Tuesday."

SEVEN HUNDRED REBELS CAPTURED

Filipino Constabulary Surprise Luzon Bolomen Who Had Killed Women.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

MANILA, Sept. 5.—Rios, a fanatical leader of the irreconcilable natives in the province of Tayabas, Luzon, attacked the town of Laguamanoc September 3 at the head of 30 riflemen and 150 men armed with bolos. The band wantonly killed two women and one girl and wounded several other persons.

A detachment of native constabulary arrived unexpectedly at Laguaimanoc while Rios' men were still there. They attacked and routed the bandits, killing several of Rios' followers and have rounded up 700 men, many of whom are suspected of complicity in the attack on Laguamanoc. The guilty ones among the 700 men will be picked out and the remainder set at liberty.

One of Rios' lieutenants, who was captured, said Rios was a direct descendant of God and that it was beyond the power of man to injure him.

The constabulary have also captured one of Rios' mountain strongholds. Four detachments of constabulary are now following the main band of the outlaws.

FOURTH FAILURE TO NOMINATE IN WARREN-VENANGO

An Agreement May Come Monday if Hulings Will Surrender.

SENATOR CUMING'S CHANCES THE BEST

By WALTER J. CHRISTY,
Staff Correspondent.

Oil City, Pa., Sept. 5.—After struggling for four hours tonight the Republican senatorial conference adjourned until Monday night without making a nomination. Neither Col. W. J. Hulings of Venango nor Senator H. H. Cumings of Warren would yield. There is a possibility of a settlement Monday without an appeal to the Republican state committee for relief.

To secure a nomination in the district conference as now constituted Col. Hulings will have to surrender. Those who know the colonel possibly will think there is slight likelihood of much action. Should he refuse to retreat, then Senator Cumings will appeal to the state committee. In the event of outside interference the chances all favor the nomination of Cumings. Such a settlement, however, no doubt would put Hulings in the field as an independent candidate, with probably Democratic indorsement. This would endanger the Venango county legislative ticket and might defeat Cumings.

Col. Hulings feels that it is his turn to represent the district and he has three conferees who will stick to him until he says surrender. Even then it is doubtful if at least one of his men would agree to vote for Cumings. The Warren candidate is just as strongly grounded in his belief that he should have another term.

Fourth Failure to Agree.

The meeting tonight was the fourth which has been held. On every ballot the vote has stood 3 to 3. Tonight the conferees and candidates held frequent conferences, but both sides stood firm.

Col. Hulings is represented by Col. George C. Rickards, Maj. J. M. Reed and Lyman Rhodes. The conferees for Senator Cumings are Sheriff James Brann, ex-Representative E. W. Parshall and Capt. W. J. Alexander.

When the conferees reached the Arlington shortly after 8 o'clock this evening the Warren representatives had reason for believing that Hulings would agree to the nomination of Cumings. Col. Hulings and Cumings held a long conference, but they could not reach an agreement.

The conferees were then put to work. They struggled with the proposition for an hour and then advised the candidates to get together. The candidates did so, but both left the meeting with the determination to fight it out. The conferees again twisted the pole and a second time urged a conference of the candidates. They quit firm friends but strong opponents. Col. Hulings offered to flip a dollar, but Cumings wouldn't accept this device as a method of breaking the deadlock.

Cumings has more chance of ultimate success than has the colonel. There is rather good grounds for believing that the Warren man has the ear of the state organization. In the flipping of a dollar he stood a chance of losing, but when it comes to the umpire stage, or even the additional conferee, the element of chance is not so great.

Possible Appeal to Quay.

If a nomination is not made by September 5, 55 days prior to the election, the state committee, under the rules adopted in 1899, at the suggestion of the Dauphin county court, will step in. Senator Cumings says tonight that if a nomination is not made Monday he will ask the state chairmen to name an additional conferee for each county, as provided in the rules. This will make a conference of eight. There is a strong possibility that both of these men would think it wise to give the nomination to Warren. If within five days after their appointment the conference fails to make a nomination, then Chairman M. S. Quay is authorized to appoint an umpire. The decision of this referee is final.

Col. Hulings still maintains the state rules are not valid. He says the state committee has no power to interfere, and that he would not recognize a nomination made in this wise. The colonel feels that he has been badly treated by the organization in his own county, and that if the nomination is made either by the introduction of additional conferees or by an umpire, he would be justified in becoming an independent candidate. Tonight he does not say in so many words that this would be the result of state committee interference, but it is easily to be seen that he has a strong leaning toward such redress.

So far the Democrats of the district

THE SPIRIT OF UNREST SHOWS IN ALLEGHENY

Initial Gun of Citizens Campaign Was Fired Last Night.

ENTHUSIASM WAS BEYOND RESTRAINT

Mention of Gov. Stone Caused Remarkable Display of Popular Indignation.

GAZETTE EXPOSURES UPHELD BY SPEAKER

The first gun of the Citizens campaign in Allegheny was fired last night. It was not the formal opening, for that will follow the start made by the Pittsburgh section of the party, but for a display of enthusiasm and spirit it was an important event in the battle against the machine.

The audience was there for a purpose. Before the meeting opened the candidates present were the center of little swirls of applauding humanity, and there was an air permeating the big assemblage that forecasted a revolution in Allegheny's political affairs.

JOHN M. GOEHRING,
Citizens Candidate for the State Senate.

The hall, which has a capacity of perhaps 1,500, was packed to the doors. The old men, who have borne the brunt of former battles against the ring, were there, but the thing that impressed the onlooker most was the proportion of young men and their interest in everything that was done.

Enthusiasm Rampant.

There were city employes, too, lots of them, and they were apparently as much in earnest as their neighbors. A band, that played ragtime and two good clubs helped to keep things lively. It was announced before the meeting had fairly begun that the campaign was not being formally opened and that this was merely a gathering of Allegheny citizens to promote the strengthening of the Citizens organization. If the meeting last night was merely preliminary, there is certainly something coming to Recorder Murphy and his machine hosts.

The meeting was called to order about 8:30 by Chairman John A. Naylor, who introduced John M. Goehring, long a member of Allegheny councils and candidate for state senate from the Forty-second district, in opposition to Charles A. Muehlbronner.

Mr. Goehring's remarks about the perversion of the primaries and the slating of candidates by the bosses brought forth a response that indicated a deep-seated public resentment.

They Don't Like Stone.

He paid his respects to Anton Lutz and John Wagner, legislative nominees, and the crowd roared approval. When he asked: "Is Anton Lutz, is John Wagner fit to represent you in the legislature and assist in making laws?" the "No" that was flung back at him fairly shook the building.

"Why were William T. Marshall and John Henderson chosen to go back to the legislative halls they disgraced?" asked the speaker. "Bill Stone wanted them; they're his tools," roared the audience.

JOHN FRANCIES.
Citizens Candidate for the House of Delegates.

The delight of the people of William A. Stone's home city in measuring out his just deserts was apparent in enthusiastic encores to a warm little parody in which "P. S.—I was not bribed" was rendered to the music of "Ain't Dat a Shame" by the Citizens quartet.

It was followed by a ditty to the tune of "Annie Laurie," in which it was frequently asserted the court house was "bonny," but there was too much "Bonny" in it. This also caught the crowd's fancy, and was followed by a display of approval that augurs ill for the recorder of deeds.

Gazette Was Upheld.

J. M. Stoner made what he termed his maiden political speech, but his points against the bill establishing the office of collector of delinquent taxes and the pointed references to the "white-washing of the bribery charges against Allegheny councils" brought the audience to a high pitch of enthusiasm.

It was not, however, until he turned his remarks from things financial to things moral that the climax was reached. As he spoke of the awful evils that the city administration had protected and fostered, as exposed by The Gazette, and the complaisance with which Recorder Murphy looked on the introduction of "Continental morals into Puritan Allegheny," he took his audience with him. "We are compelled to raise our children with houses of shame on one side and speakeasies on the other, and these things are countenanced, nay, encouraged.

"They are colonizing Allegheny with the inmates of these establishments, and the speakeasy and its close associate are spreading their poison all over our fair city. Property is depreciating, while assessed values are increasing. We want, and we will have, a change in the morals of our city. Our households are surrounded and our children are contaminated by the conditions that were recently exposed and still exist."

Francis Told Platform.

The Iron City quartet here caused the crowd to break loose again, with a song which told the virtues of George Shiras III. and explained the certainty of Congressman Graham's defeat.

John S. Frances, former market clerk, had perhaps the most attentive audience of the evening. He is credited with having some inside information as to the manner in which things have been conducted by Recorder Murphy and his associates, and his platform, as candidate for the legislature in the Second district, was received with uproarious applause.

Mr. Frances' three telling cards were the repeal of the delinquent tax law; giving councils authority to summon and swear witnesses in investigations, and the placing of a limit on the tax millage in cities of the second class.

The Citizens quartet tickled the fancy of the crowd here by taking a fall out of "Bill Flinn and his pie-crust roads."

Closed With Enthusiasm.

John. H. Trimble, the next speaker, handled the county commissioners without gloves. He told of "the palatial morgue" they are building at a cost of $400,000, and how they are spending $66,000 on fitting up one office, when with the money they could buy one of the bridges between Allegheny and Pittsburgh."

Stephen G. Porter of the Eleventh ward exposed a few of the abuses a lawyer sees in the conduct of the county offices. Porter also went after the record of Congressman Graham in a way that made that member's constituents howl with delight and appreciation.

The meeting was closed with a speech by George H. Stengel, candidate for register of wills, amid a display of enthusiasm, in which the quartets and band ably assisted, and the crowd kept the candidates busy for a long time shaking hands and receiving promises of votes.

D. M. Collingwood, candidate for county treasurer; J. M. Fahnestock, candidate for sheriff, and George H. Stengel, for county register, held impromptu levees, as did also the nominees for state senate and assembly, who were present.

WILL START WORK TO STRENGTHEN BRIDGE

Pittsburgh Railways Company Will Suspend Traffic Over Smithfield Structure For a Week.

The Pittsburgh Railways Company will on Sunday start work on the Smithfield street bridge, to make the bridge perfectly secure for street car traffic. After the accident a few weeks ago Director McCandless declared that the bridge would have to be materially strengthened by the traction people.

The work, which will take about a week, will suspend traction traffic over the bridge in that time. A scheme is being considered of using buses to transfer passengers from one side of the bridge to the other while the work is under way.

The company plans to double the strength of the traction roadway. New timbers will be put in and also new rails, which will be 85 pounds to the yard.

TAX "FIXING" CHARGED.

Chicago Grand Jury Indicts Four Men for Implication in Masonic Temple Scandal.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Indictments were returned today against four men implicated in the Masonic Fraternity Temple association tax-fixing scandal. The men are Luke Wheeler, Capt. Edward Williams, manager of the Masonic temple; James B. Foy and John J. Healy, Jr.

It was discovered that an entry of "paid" had been forged opposite an item of nearly $27,000 on the tax warrant book of the county treasurer. Michael G. Walsh gave testimony before the grand jury that the Temple association wished to issue bonds to improve its financial condition, but that, because the building had been sold once for taxes, trust companies would not float the bonds unless the property was free from liens.

CAPT. KEENAN MAY RUN.

He Is Being Urged to Stand for Congress Against Huff.

GREENSBURG, PA., Sept. 5.—(Special.)—There is a possibility that Capt. John P. Keenan, the leader of the Westmoreland Democracy, will accept the Democratic nomination for congress in the Butler-Westmoreland district, now being urged upon him by the leaders of both counties.

Capt. Keenan has not yet indicated that he will be a candidate, but a confidential friend of his, who believes he sees trouble in the Republican ranks of the twowe counties over the late Pittsburgh conferee meeting, said tonight that Capt. Keenan would positively contest for the place against Col. Huff. The Democratic leaders of the two counties will meet next week to fix upon a candidate.

To Organize Pennypacker Club.

ALTOONA, PA., Sept. 5.—(Special.)—A monster Pennypacker club is to be organized in this city early this week and the fall campaign formally opened. All the leading Republicans in the county have become interested and no doubt exists that it will have enrolled as active members the largest number of stalwart Republicans ever identified with a club in this section.

U. S. S. MACHIAS LAID DOWN LAW FOR HAITIANS

GETS GERMANY'S THANKS

War Minister's Army Defeated. American Missionary in Venezuela Issues an Appeal For Relief of Starving Victims of the War.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 5.—Commander Henry McCrea's vigorous handling of the perplexing situation in Haiti, due to the attempt of the revolutionary Admiral Killick to blockade the entire coast with the single gunboat of the insurgent government, is evident in a report just made public by the state department. In the minds of officials in Washington Commander McCrea, who with the gunboat Machias met with marked success in protecting foreign interests during the revolution on the isthmus, has again proved himself an adept at preventing these belligerent outbursts from injuring foreign commerce.

In Haiti he has represented and protected with a firm hand almost all commerce except that of Haiti itself. He says that after sending notice to the revolutionary Admiral Killick that he was charged with the protection of British, French, German, Italian, Spanish, Russian and Cuban interests, as well as those of the United States, that bombardment of the city would be permitted only with due notice, and that interference with commerce by the interruption of telegraph cables or stoppage of steamers would not be permitted, he was informed by Admiral Killick that a new government with Gen. Firmin as president had been formed at Gonaives, and that a blockade of Cape Haitien had been declared.

Puts His Foot Down Upon Blockade.

Following that, Commander McCrea received the consuls aboard the Machias. They entered a formal protest against the blockade. On August 11, an American schooner having made Cape Haitien, Commander McCrea considered the blockade ineffective. Two days later Commander McCrea went with the Machias to Gagnette and sent a very pointed note to Admiral Killick. It said:

"I came to ascertain your whereabouts, and, if possible, to deliver to you the decision of my government regarding your proposal to blockade Cape Haitien. It is considered not effective, even as a de facto blockade, and I am here to tell you that the United States denies you the right to visit or search any American or other foreign vessel attempting entrance to the harbor of Cape Haitien."

Admiral Killick then promptly admitted the ineffectiveness of the blockade.

The German government has expressed officially its appreciation of Commander McCrea's efforts in behalf of the empire's interests in southern waters.

War Minister's Troops Defeated.

CAPE HAITIEN, HAITI, Sept. 5.—The troops of Gen. Alexis Nord, war minister of the provisional government, were defeated yesterday and the day before near Limbe. The opposing forces are said to have lost heavily. Gen. Esmangard, who actually commanded the government force engaged, was captured by the revolutionists, and a portion of the government artillery fell into the hands of the Artibonite forces.

After the defeat of his troops Gen. Nord returned to Cape Haitien with his staff. The general had an interview yesterday with the French minister, M. Despres, on the subject of the threatening attitude assumed by certain classes of the inhabitants against foreigners. The troops of the provisional government are demoralized.

Starvation in Venezuela.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 5.—United States Minister Bowen at Caracas has forwarded to the state department a plaintive plea for the poor in this capital, who are suffering great misery as the result of the protracted war in Venezuela. The special plea is made by the Rev. T. S. Pond, the senior American missionary in Caracas, and Mr. Bowen has undertaken gladly to receive any contributi as that may be sent from America to his legation. Mr. Pond needs, according to Mr. Bowen, $2,000, but could easily use five times that amount.

"The actually starving," he writes, "are rapidly invading the city in the hope of obtaining something to do, or at least something to eat." Mr. Pond refers to the fact that Minister Bowen himself is feeding daily 100 or more destitute men, women and children, most of whom can gain not a morsel more.

"At least half the families of this city," says Mr. Pond, "can gain only one fair meal a day. Hundreds cannot obtain even that."

MOB WRECKS A HOUSE.

Non-Union Miner's Dwelling Demolished Near Wilkesbarre.

WILKESBARRE, PA., Sept. 5.—The house of Lawrence Tarwoski, a non-union mine worker at Hudson, six miles north of this city, was wrecked by a mob tonight. Tarwoski's wife, who was alone, fled in terror.

The strikers at Hudson engaged in a march tonight and carried a number of banners on which were inscriptions threatening non-union men at work in the mines.

McKees Rocks Vacancy Filled.

McKees Rocks council last night elected John Stack to succeed the late Councilman R. L. McMunn. F. H. Hefner and C. W. Ashton were the candidates first named and five ballots were taken, resulting in a tie. The Hefner faction then placed Stack on the ballot and only one ballot was needed to elect him. M. C. O'Donovan was elected borough treasurer to succeed the First National bank, resigned.

Irish Fair Closes Tonight.

After two successful weeks, during which the fund for building a new house of worship for the Roman Catholic Church of the Annunciation, Allegheny, has been handsomely increased, the Irish Fair, at the Allegheny Colosseum, will be brought to a close tonight. One of the most thrilling features will be a night balloon ascension by Prof. David McDade, at 10 o'clock.

NEWPORT CAPTURED AND WAR IS ENDED

IT LOOKS SO TO CIVILIANS, BUT UMPIRE WILL DECIDE.

Higginson's Fleet Boldly Runs the Forts Defending the Harbor and Anchors, but Soon Afterward Suddenly Steams Away.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 5.—Admiral Higginson's fleet of battleships ran the forts defending Newport harbor at 10 o'clock, and now lies at anchor off the torpedo station. The mimic warfare is practically at an end.

The secondary fleet of smaller vessels followed about half an hour later, after the fight was over.

After remaining at anchor half an hour the fleet suddenly steamed out of the harbor.

Nearly the entire fleet under Real Admiral Higginson's command made a demonstration this afternoon against the army defenses on Narragansett bay, but did not attempt to come into close quarters with any of the forts.

A landing was effected, however, at Prices Neck, where the searchlight and range station on which the mortars at Fort Adams are sighted and fired, were put out of action for an hour. During that time the battleships Kearsarge and Alabama engaged Fort Wetherill, the cruisers Olympia and Brooklyn hammered Fort Grebele in the west channel, while the battleships Massachusetts and Indiana and the monitor Puritan destroyed a signal station at the entrance of Seaknet river.

After two hours of fighting the fleet drew off shore, where it assembled just before sunset for what at that time looked like a night attack.

It is a question for the umpires to decide as to whether Fort Adams was not demolished by the rapid firing guns of the ships before the mortars were fired this afternoon. At any event those on the ships kept right on, and at 8:15, after a furious cannonade by all three vessels, two small boats put off from the Montgomery and started for the shore. When about 100 yards off two gatling guns, manned by Massachusetts heavy artillery men, sputtered a few hundred shots, but the jackies kept right on, and at 8:35 the station was captured.

While this fight was going on the Massachusetts, Indiana and Puritan had gone well up the Seaknet river and put out of action a signal station on the western point. Over to the Narragansett shore the Brooklyn and Olympia worked along near the beach, keeping up a continual fire on Fort Grebele.

POINT JUDITH, R. I., Sept. 5.—While the war balloon was being removed from its hiding place inland to the station at the Point today, a gust of wind struck the partly filled bag and swept it across fields and stone walls. The men who were in charge were dragged unceremoniously in its wake and a halt came only after a great hole had been torn in the canvas, letting out the gas.

ADVENTIST RETURNED FIRE.

Women and Children Trampped in Panic Which Followed.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Sept. 5.—(Special.)—There was a riot at a protracted meeting at Huffman, W. Va., last night and several people are reported to have been injured. The meetings are being conducted by Seventh Day Adventists in a tent.

A crowd of toughs has been storming the tent nightly until it became necessary to guard it. Last night while the Rev. Mr. Traugh was standing guard several shots were fired at him in the dark. He returned the fire, when a fusilade ensued, causing a panic. Men, women and children rushed out of the tent and several women and children were knocked down and trampled upon. The Rev. Mr. Traugh was uninjured, although the tent was riddled with bullets.

FOURTH FAILURE TO NOMINATE

have not nominated. The colonel is reticent about the matter, but it can be inferred from his talk that he has reason to believe that he could get the indorsement of this party. He hesitated, however, to make an independent fight, and he feels it would probably result in the defeat of a part of the Venango Republican ticket.

Should the Democrats nominate a member of their party and he run as an independent candidate, he is of the opinion that Cumings would be defeated. In the event of his independent candidacy, either with or without the indorsement of the Democrats, he will declare it to be his intention, if elected, to go into the senatorial Republican caucus and abide by the result.

There are some reasons for the belief that at the meeting Monday a nomination can be made. While Col. Hulings is firm in his belief that he is entitled to this nomination, it is quite doubtful if he will do anything to jeopardize the success of the Republican party in his county.

Senator Cumings is quite hopeful that he can secure the nomination, and he wishes to do it without the aid of the state committee. He realizes that outside interference could not but leave sore spots.

PETROLEUM FUEL A GREAT SUCCESS ON A WAR VESSEL

Lieut. Winchell of the Gunboat Mariposa Tells All About It.

IT SAVES SPACE AND MEN

The Few Slight Drawbacks Can Be Easily Removed by Duplicating Parts Affected—Smaller but More Intelligent Force Needed.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 5.—The report of Lieut. Ward Winchell, U. S. N., the expert detailed by the navy department to observe the installation and efficiency of the oil fuel system as fitted to the Oceanic Steamship Company's steamer Mariposa, has been received at the navy department. The report gives positive information about the evaporative efficiency of the boilers and sets out some facts relative to the use of oil and fuel which have been earnestly sought from the navy department by steamship men and oil producers. Some of these facts follow:

The Mariposa's gross displacement was 3,160 tons, and her average horse power, with oil, about 2,481, giving her a daily average of 334 knots and a mean speed of 13.58, with 278 barrels of oil a day. This was 50 per cent less in weight than would be required to coal, for one and a half pounds of oil sufficed to produce a horse power.

An important advantage in the oil fuel was the reduction of the engine room force from 36 to 20 men. The ship used only 12 of her 18 furnaces, burning crude oil in two barrels in each furnace by means of an air compresser of a capacity of 1,000 cubic feet a minute at 30 pounds pressure. All of the burners were not used except at short intervals.

Every precaution was taken to insure safety by ventilating the oil tanks and otherwise. The entire refuse, after a run of 3,488 miles from San Francisco to Tahiti, barely filled two ash buckets, and the flames did not affect the boilers unfavorably.

Difficulties experienced were confined to the choking of strainers, which can be obviated by duplicating those parts and in the regulation of the supply of oil to feeders. When the air compressors needed overhauling, in one or two instances, recourse was had to a steam spray which wisely had been provided.

Lieut. Winchell says if fewer men are needed in the fire rooms with oil it is necessary to secure men of higher intelligence, with mechanical aptitude and nerve, closely to watch the furnaces. The essentials are that there shall be a constant air pressure for atomizing, that provision shall be made to maintain regular temperature of the oil, and that the oil strainers be watched steadily.

Lieut. Winchell's report concludes that the Mariposa's trip was remarkable in many respects and was not only a tribute to the skill of the Pacific coast mechanics but to the enterprise of the company which first installed the oil burners in lieu of coal.

A POOR PIANO IS ALWAYS DEAR

Everybody Knows That to Be True After Experience With an Inferior Instrument.

It seems a paradox to say that a cheap thing is usually a dear thing, but the truth of this proposition becomes manifest when a person buys a piano of unknown make. The price may appear enticing, but what of the piano? What is to be said of its quality after a reasonable length of service? Ah, THERE'S the point. Time readily finds whatever faults there may be in the structure of a musical instrument, and especially are the weak points of a piano discovered.

There is only one way to buy a piano. That is to buy it from a dealer whose reputation ABSOLUTELY GUARANTEES the instrument's quality. Such a dealer cannot afford to sell any but standard makes, hence any instrument you might select from such a collection will always prove worthy of both the dealer and the customer.

It is because of the implicit confidence which the public reposes in Hamilton's music house that this old reliable concern's enormous business becomes larger with each succeeding year. Every customer who selects an instrument at this store does so with the assurance that he is getting full value for his money, and that his purchase has the reputation of the leading piano store of the State behind it. The very best pianos in the world are sold at Hamilton's, whose price inducements are always truest and whose terms are invariably found to be the most attractive. Easy monthly payments can be arranged by anyone preferring to pay for an instrument in this way. Really, in justice to yourself, you should never consider the purchase of a musical instrument until you have ascertained Hamilton's prices and terms. You can here select your instrument from the most magnificent stock ever assembled.

There are many good pianos at Hamilton's from $200 up—and if you buy now you can save a snug sum, for prices are made especially attractive to induce customers to make their selections before the beginning of the busy fall and winter season. And should you care to have a second-hand or slightly used piano, for about half what it originally cost, you should see the assortment of such pianos now at Hamilton's. Some of these are rare bargains, having been used only a few weeks.

Write for further particulars if you cannot call.

Paine's Celery Compound

Permanently Cures Sick and Nervous Headaches That Make Life Miserable.

Sick and nervous headaches are amongst the worst ills of life. The man or woman who is subject to headache at irregular intervals goes through life bearing a load of misery and wretchedness that is terrible to think of.

Headaches as a rule result from a disordered condition of the nervous system. Mental excitement, loss of sleep, bodily fatigue and disordered digestion are exciting causes. When the brain becomes tired and debilitated the whole nervous system is weakened and headaches result. If the liver is sluggish, the kidneys inactive and digestion deranged, headaches inevitably follow. To cure and prevent headache, the nervous system must be strengthened and vitalized. The most persistent cases of headache, nervous feebleness and sleplessness are permanently cured by Paine's Celery Compound; it is the great reconstructant of the nervous system. Mrs. Henry Westrick, St. Clair, Mich., tells of her release from suffering as follows:

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia and sick headache for a number of years. About every week I would have a bad spell of sick headache, but since I began using Paine's Celery Compound my dyspepsia is gone, and I do not have any more headaches. I feel better than I have for years."

OLD HICKORY SHOE FOR BOYS

JOSEPH HORNE CO

Weather—Fair. Saturday, Sept. 6, 1902.

Open Today Until 5 O'Clock.

In a brief way we desire to say to the thousands of gentlemen who buy their clothes from us that we are now ready with the most complete and worthy lines of Fall and Winter clothes we ever carried.

Yet, in that, there is little cause for remark—for the earnest endeavors of this store are always along the broad plane of betterment—more and more completeness as the seasons come and go.

The finely appointed Clothing Department of the fourth floor, where natural light shows strongly through many windows, is an inviting place to look over the Fall styles in suits and top coats. A touch of cool weather makes us all seek warmer clothing, and yesterday saw many men trying on lightweight top coats.

Today, if you have time, we would like to show you some of the new styles.

Will you let us do so, say this afternoon, after you are through with your office?

And today will be an agreeable time to show ladies the new suits we have selected for them. Some of the prettiest, some with ever so much style to them, are ready. Indeed, the second floor Tailor-Made Suit department seems like a new place, albeit we are just passing from Summer to Autumn.

But come and see. Praise from us is not half so relishable as a commendatory word from women who expect some day to wear one of these new suits.

And here, in italics, we give notice that the closing hour for next week will be 5 P. M.

EXPERTS WILL BE INSISTED ON BY REFORM MEN

No Consideration to Be Given Filtration Plans Until Passed Upon.

WANT PRACTICAL VIEWS

Councilman Stevenson Says It's a Case Where Difference Between Theory and Practice Is Worth Ascertaining.

Beginning with the meeting of common council next Monday evening, efforts will be made by the Citizens party members to adopt the resolution providing for the employment of experts to go over the plans for the filtration plant and to determine what it will cost to build a plant such as the plans call for.

These experts are to be actual builders. They will not be filtration experts, as is popularly supposed, but will be representatives of great contracting firms, men who have an actual and practical knowledge of building operations, who have had wide experience in the construction of great buildings; who know what the construction of great engines will cost. The object of the Citizens members is to fix upon some solution of the water problem, and they believe that a practical estimate of what it will cost will be of value.

An Important Difference.

"The difference between the figures of the filtration engineers, which are just completed," said Common Councilman W. H. Stevenson of the Fourteenth ward yesterday, "and the figures furnished by the practical builders we desire to see at work on the plans will be simply that between theory and practice. These men are said to be filtration experts. They may know all about a grand filtration system, but when it comes to computing what it will cost to build the plant itself I do not think that their figures are any more reliable than those of any other persons. For that reason I want to see a committee of actual builders make an estimate.

"After one gets an architect's plans, if he is accustomed to building, he goes at once to a practical builder and asks him what the actual work on such a house will cost.

"The situation with this filtration plant is pretty much the same. The filtration engineers correspond to the architects. They have drawn plans for everything that will be needed. Their work may be all right as far as it goes. Now, we want the expert builders to go over these plans and tell us, from the standpoint of actual experience, just what it will cost to build such a plant. After this has been done we will feel safe to tell the people what it will cost them to get such a plant. Then something can be done intelligently.

Intelligent Action Afterward.

"It may be that the expert builders will say that it will cost more to build the plant than the filtration engineers think. Even if that should be the case, we will still have the satisfaction of knowing that the figures are correct, as nearly correct as they can be made. Then the people can decide what to do.

"If they want to raise the money by bond issue they can do it. If they want to build a smaller plant at a cost that will come inside the amount of money provided for the purpose they can do that. All we want is to know exactly where we are at, so that we can act intelligently. There is certainly no business sense in talking about building a plant that will cost nearly $4,000,000 when we have on hand a little more than $2,000,000 to do it with.

"If the machine-ridden select councilmen do not want to adopt the resolution providing for experts they need not do so. I presume they will fight it. But if they do, they do so with the assurance that they are really acting against the best interests of a pure water system, and they will have to reckon with the people for their action."

Director McCandless still maintains secrecy as to the estimate of total cost which the filtration engineers have at last figured out.

DIAMOND STREET SHOOTING.

Drake Held for Court and Police Hunting for the Other Man.

Frank Drake, alias John Wilson, was held under $500 bail on a charge of pointing firearms, preferred by Police Inspector Fred Will before Magistrate McGarey yesterday morning.

Drake was mixed up in the Diamond street shooting Thursday evening, when he is alleged to have fired two shots at his companion. The trouble grew out of an argument which started in a Diamond street saloon. Neither of Drake's two shots took effect. His companion, who is said to have drawn a knife, succeeded in making good his escape and the police are making a search for him.

RESERVOIR ESTIMATE NO. 43.

Total Cost of Work on Highland Reservoir No. 2 Aggregates $425,500.

The Mercantile Trust Company, which is finishing the construction of Highland reservoir No. 2, yesterday filed estimate No. 43, being an account and statement of the work done on the reservoir from its beginning, early in 1897, up to last Monday morning. The work aggregates $425,500. Only about $165,000 has been paid out to the contractors.

The question whether the city shall pay the estimates as presented is now pending in court, the trust company having entered suit against the city controller.

TWO MET DEATH IN RAILROAD WRECK

ANOTHER MAN WAS ALSO HURT IN P. V. & C. COLLISION.

Train Parted and Came Together Again. Infant Child of Homestead Woman Fell Into Scrub Bucket and Was Drowned—Philip McGettigan Drowned.

Two men are dead and another seriously injured as the result of a wreck on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad, near West Brownsville at 9:15 o'clock Thursday night. The dead are Thomas Burmaster, 22 years old, single; resided at Carrick, who died at the West Penn hospital, and William J. Roberts, 25 years old, single, living at No. 2702 Carson street, who died in a caboose. Samuel McAllister, of Lennix street, Uniontown, was badly cut about the head and legs. He was taken to the West Penn hospital and will recover.

McAllister, Burmaster and Roberts were riding in the caboose, when the train parted. The first part of the train collided with the second and the force of the collision threw the tender into the caboose.

Margaret M. Kavanaugh, the 10-months-old daughter of Philip Kavanaugh, No. 12 Ann street, Homestead, fell from the front steps of the home about 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon into a bucket of water and was drowned before her mother could reach her. Mrs. Kavanaugh was preparing to scrub the front pavement and seated her daughter on the steps while she did the work. The mother carried a bucket of water from the rear of the house and placed it on the pavement. She started back for the second bucket and while she was in the yard the child toddled to the end of the steps and fell head first into the bucket of water.

The coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict of accidental death at the inquest into the death of Philip McGettigan, who was found dead under the Monongahela river bridge at Rankin on Sunday morning. It was thought for a time that McGettigan was murdered, as his head was crushed in, but the autopsy found that death was due to drowning, after the blow had been received.

PROF. VIRCHOW DEAD.

The Great German Medical and Scientific Reformer Passes Away in Berlin.

BERLIN, Sept. 5.—Prof. Rudolf Virchow, the pathologist, died here this afternoon. The newspapers print glowing eulogies of the deceased professor, crediting him as the world's greatest medical and social reformer, and declare that no other man so deeply influenced modern medicine and that no other had such a world-wide reputation and so many followers in all lands. The papers also praise his humanitarian activity in improving the Berlin hospitals and other sanitary institutions, and the liberal organs extol his political activity and unswerving liberalism.

Prof. Virchow was born at Schivelbein October 13, 1821, and studied medicine in Berlin. In 1849 he was appointed professor of pathological anatomy at Wurzburg. In 1856 he returned to Berlin as professor in the new pathological institute, which soon became the center of independent research among the younger men of science.

His principal works as an author are: "Cellular Pathology," "Morbid Tumors," "Goethe as a Naturalist," "The Education of Women," "Free Knowledge in the Modern State," and "The Necropolis of Koban in the Caucasus." His "Archives of Pathological Anatomy and Physiology and of Chemical Medicine" founded in 1847, reached over 100 volumes.

He also made himself felt in political life. During the political changes which ended in the establishment of the German empire he was active and his speeches and pamphlets obtained wide circulation. Since 1862 he was a member of the Prussian house of deputies.

QUAY IN ADIRONDACKS.

On His Way to the Mountains He Meets Senator Platt Twice in New York City.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Senator Quay remained in his rooms at the Fifth Avenue hotel today and saw no one until Senator Platt of New York arrived. The two held a long conference.

Senator Quay denied today that during his conversation with Senator Platt last night they talked about the strike, directly or indirectly. He would not say what they talked about.

"It was merely a long, friendly talk," said Mr. Quay.

Senator Platt said: "I saw Senator Quay a little while last night and discussed private matters with him. The coal strike was not mentioned."

Senator Quay left today for the Adirondacks, where he will spend a week hunting and fishing.

MADE FAIR PROMISES.

Meeting in Pittsburgh This Week at Which Coke Consuming Interests Were Promised Relief.

A meeting of traffic officials of the railroads and of the coke-consuming interests of this and the valley districts, held in Pittsburgh this week, is said to have brought out a promise to relieve the shortage of coke in the Mahoning and Shenango valleys. The railroad interests are said to have promised that coke would be given the right of way, westbound, from the Connellsville region.

Promise is also said to have been made that hereafter the full quoth of coke will be shipped to these consumers. The railroad interests excused their failure to get the coke through by assertions that they are short of motive power and this fault, they claim, would be remedied in a short time.

BOY IN A BARROOM.

Penn Avenue Saloonkeeper Prosecuted for Selling to a Minor.

Michael Posluseny, who keeps a saloon in Penn avenue near Twentieth street, will have a hearing this morning before Magistrate McMasters on a charge of selling liquor to minors. The information was made by Mrs. Catherine McCabe, who alleges Posluseny sold to her 15-year-old son, John Dougherty.

The prosecution is the result of a dramatic episode that occurred in Posluseny's saloon Wednesday night, when Mrs. McCabe, accompanied by two policemen, entered and discovered her son sitting at a table with a glass of beer before him.

TUBE COMPANY WILL EXPEND $17,500,000

Improvements in Its Plants Regardless of U. S. Steel Financial Plans.

M'KEESPORT AND LORAIN

There Are the Two Plants Which Are to Be Enlarged and the Capacity of Which Will Be Greatly Increased.

Great additions to the producing facilities of the National Tube Company, one of the constituents of the United States Steel Corporation, are to go forward whether or not the scheme of converting preferred stock into bonds is carried out by the big investor interest. The only effect on the tube company improvement plan will be that, if the conversion scheme fails to carry, there will be delay in arranging for the funds to make the gigantic improvements.

Officials of the National Tube Company, with the approval of the necessary executives of the United States Steel Corporation, it is understood, have determined on improvements which will add to the finished pipe output of the company about 2,500 tons daily. The greatest additions to the works are planned for McKeesport, with others of almost equal importance at Lorain, O. In all, these new works are planned to cost about $17,500,000.

The Sites Decided Upon.

The National Tube Company has had under advisement the plans for these improvements for a long time. Advantageous available sites at Neville Island, owned by the American Steel and Wire Company, at Woodson, owned by the American Sheet Steel Company, and at Connetaut, were under consideration. The pick of places resulted from the fact that McKeesport already contained the greatest tube works in the world and that at Lorain, O., the steel corporation, in ownership of the Lorain Steel Company, has an extensive blast furnace and steel plant.

The plans for additions to the McKeesport plant provide for an increase in the output of finished product in steel and wrought iron pipe to the extent of 1,500 tons a day. The plans for Lorain provide for the necessary construction in furnaces and mills, which will give the company an additional 1,000 tons daily of wrought iron and steel pipe. Together these new works will swell the pay roll of the company by 12,000 men.

The Lorain Steel Company, while it had become one of the allied interests of the Federal Steel Company, is now as much a single constituent of the steel corporation as the National Tube Company. The Lorain works now has an annual capacity of 400,000 gross tons of Bessemer pig iron, 250,000 tons of Bessemer steel ingots, and of blooms, billets, slabs, girder and "T" rails and street railroad specialties, 500,000 gross tons.

Record in Production.

A new record in production was made by the National Tube Company at its McKeesport works in August. At this plant the tonnage of pipe was greater in this month than that produced in any other plant in the world in the same number of working days. The average production of finished pipe at these works last month was 1,150 tons.

Nearly the entire output of the McKeesport plant is special pipe and it is shipped to nearly every section of the globe. While the daily average for last month was the greatest in the history of the works, the aggregate did not quite reach that of previous months, because there were only 26 working days in August. Had there been the usual 27 working days the record would have exceeded that of any other month in the aggregate.

POLICEMAN M'SEBNEY IS HELD FOR MURDER

Companion of Henry Weber Who Was Killed, Says that McSebney Was Drunk.

The inquest into the death of Henry Weber, who was shot by Policeman Samuel McSebney in McKeesport early Wednesday morning, was held by Coroner Jesse M. McGeary yesterday, and the officer was held to answer to a charge of murder.

William Kline, who was with young Weber when he was shot, testified that McSebney suddenly appeared in the street, staggering, and called upon the two to halt, which they did not do, not knowing he was a policeman. The officer then pulled his revolver and shot, and Weber dropped.

Kline identified the policeman and made the statement that McSebney was drunk at the time of the shooting. Dr. J. T. Blackburn, who performed the post-mortem examination, testified that Weber's death resulted from a bullet wound made by a 32-caliber revolver.

Chief of Police Patrick Morrisey of McKeesport identified the revolver taken from McSebney after he was arrested and said it contained one empty chamber.

Weber, the victim, was buried from St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, McKeesport, with requiem mass yesterday morning. The body was viewed by several hundred people in St. Mary's cemetery before the interment.

Buried Money, Stolen from Townville Bank, Is Found; New Castle Bank Asks Pay on Old Blevins Certificates

BURGLAR'S BOOTY FOUND BURIED

Portion of Eight Thousand Dollars Stolen from Townville Bank Recovered.

WAS WRAPPED IN LAP ROBE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

TITUSVILLE, PA., Sept. 5.—Another chapter in the history of the Townville bank robbery, committed last March, when $8,000 was stolen, was enacted today when L. G. Durfee, a farmer living near the village, unearthed a large quantity of gold and silver wrapped in a rubber lap robe.

The money, which amounted to $1,655, was taken to the bank in question and readily identified by certain coins and some Sunday school money which had been left in a purse by Miss Anna Zents, a teacher, whose name was on a slip of paper therein.

Some time after the robbery two strangers were seen to drive from Cambridge Springs one night in the direction of the scene of the safe cracking and were kept under surveillance on suspicion of being the robbers who were returning to take away their treasure.

It was soon learned that the horse the strangers drove had been stolen in the neighborhood and when closely pursued by a posse they fired on their pursuers. They were soon captured, however, and are serving time in the penitentiary at Allegheny. They are John Keary and James Kennedy and are thought to be from New York.

MONESSEN HAS RAPID GROWTH

Remarkable Increase in Registration Figures—Interest in Local Politics.

MONESSEN, PA., Sept. 5.—(Special.)—The official registration of Monessen has just been completed for the fall and spring election, showing 1,460 voters, against 800 for the corresponding period last year. At the spring registration 1,245 voters registered, 215 complying with the requirements of the law to exercise their franchise in the last two days.

Already a great deal of interest is centering in the spring municipal election on account of the possible division of the town into wards. A division, according to a petition to the court which has been generally circulated, would make three wards. This would make a number of the present councilmen ineligible to re-election.

VETERANS HOLD REUNION.

Berlin in Gala Attire in Honor of the Survivors.

BERLIN, PA., Sept. 5.—(Special.)—The reunion of the 142d regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, was held here today. The morning parade was witnessed by a big crowd. The streets were decorated with flags, bunting and arches. Among those who took part in the parade were members of the 142d, most of whom rode in carriages provided by the citizens of Berlin; veterans of the Spanish-American war and of the Philippines and a large number of the members of the Sons of Veterans.

The principal exercises were held at Stoner's grove, where several bands and the Berlin Glee club furnished music. The Rev. W. B. Sykes delivered the address of welcome and the Hon. D. J. Horner of the 142d responded. After the veterans were served with a big dinner Comrade J. J. Zoen read the history of the regiment, which distinguished itself in 17 battles.

NEED A HOME PLANT.

Monessen Men Form Company to Furnish Town With Light.

MONESSEN, PA., Sept. 5.—(Special.)—Prominent business men of Monessen have organized a company and will ask council for a franchise to furnish the city with electric lights. If the franchise is granted work on the plant will begin immediately.

At present Monessen is furnished with light and power by the Bellevernon Light and Power Company from Bellevernon, three miles up the river. The city is growing so rapidly that a local plant is needed. It is believed a trolley line is included in the project.

BANK'S DEMAND RECALLS MURDER

Wants Payment on Collateral Deposited by Treasurer Blevins.

HOLDS NINE CERTIFICATES

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 5.—(Special.)—The Blevins case was recalled last night when the First National bank made a demand on the finance committee of councils for payment of $5,431 49, alleged to be due the bank for nine certificates of indebtedness issued by the municipality and cashed by the institution.

The city has frequently issued certificates of indebtedness to contractors and others doing municipal work, when the money was not available. These were afterward paid by the city, and the nine, payment of which is now demanded by the bank, had been paid by Blevins.

The murdered city treasurer failed to cancel the certificates and later deposited them at the First National bank as collateral for a loan. It was not discovered until after his murder that the nine certificates had been once paid by the city and not cancelled, according to the finding in the city audit of the Blevins accounts.

Attorney Malcolm McConnell appeared last night in behalf of the bank. He argued that the city was bound by the action of its treasurer. Nearly four years' interest is now due, which in itself is almost one-fourth of the total of the certificates. Action on the payment was deferred.

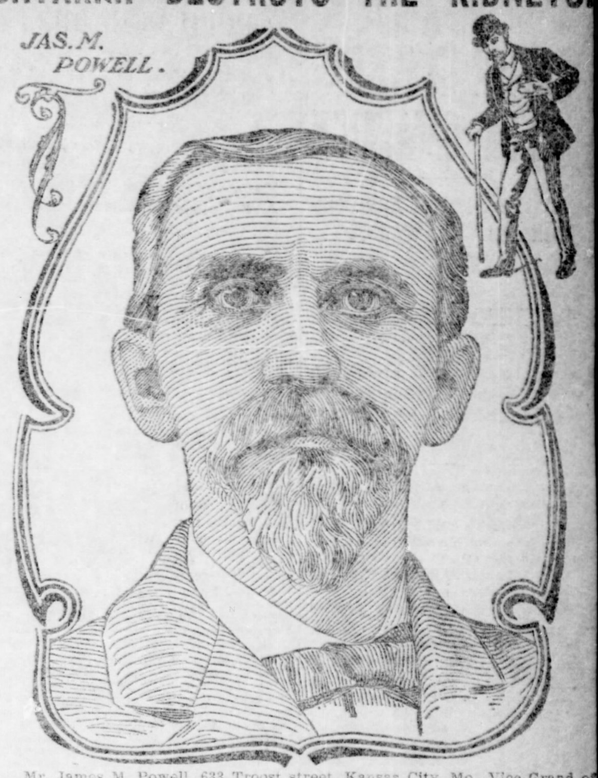
CATARRH DESTROYS THE KIDNEYS.



Mr. James M. Powell, 633 Troost street, Kansas City, Mo., Vice Grand of I. O. O. F., of Cherryville, Kan., writes:

"About four years ago I suffered with a severe catarrh of the bladder, which caused continued irritation and pain. I was miserable and could not stand up or walk for any length of time without extreme weariness and pain. I began taking Peruna and it greatly relieved me, and in eleven weeks I was completely cured and felt like a new man."—James M. Powell.

Hundreds of Dollars Spent in Vain.

Mr. Cyrus Hershman, Sheridan, Ind., writes:

"Two years ago I was a sick man. Catarrh had settled in the pelvic organs, making life a burden and giving me little hope of recovery. I spent hundreds of dollars in medicine which did me no good. I was persuaded by a friend to try Peruna. I took it two weeks without much improvement, but I kept on with it and soon began to get well and strong very fast. Within two months I was cured, and have been well ever since. I am a strong advocate of Peruna."—C. Hershman.

Peruna cures catarrh of the kidneys, liver and other pelvic organs, simply because it cures catarrh wherever located. No other systemic catarrh remedy has as yet been devised. Insist upon having Peruna. There are no medicines that can be substituted.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Hon. Louis E. Johnson, son of the late Reverdy Johnson, who was United States Senator from Maryland, also Attorney General under President Johnson, and United States Minister to England, and was regarded as the greatest constitutional lawyer that ever lived, in a recent letter from 1006 F street, N. W., Washington, D. C., Mr. Johnson says:

"No one should longer suffer from catarrh when Peruna is accessible. To my knowledge it has caused relief to so many of my friends and acquaintances that it is humanity to commend its use to all persons suffering with this distressing disorder of the human system."—Louis E. Johnson.

DEMOCRATS ARE ACTIVE IN WORK FOR CAMPAIGN

Legislative District Sub-Committees Were Named Yesterday.

MORE REGISTRY TROUBLE

Citizens Hear Further Complaints, While Machine, Frightened by Heavy Registration, Raises Cry of Fraud.

The Democrats of Allegheny county are continuing active preparations for the opening of a vigorous campaign about the last of the month. The Citizens will begin operations some time around October 1. Although the committee on meetings had a session yesterday nothing definite was decided upon regarding the date. The Democratic opening will probably take place the week before.

The members of the Democratic legislative district campaign committee, which will have active charge of the work this fall were named yesterday. Care was taken to have active Democrats put on the list, and, as a result, the party organization is confident that the campaign will be spirited and that a Democratic vote will be polled far ahead of any year in the past.

An effort will be made to have ex-Gov. Robert E. Pattison, George W. Guthrie and James Nolan, the state nominees, here for the opening meeting in Old City Hall, and flying visits may also be paid to some of the larger towns in the vicinity.

No Dates Yet Fixed.

The Democratic executive committee of 9 did not hold a meeting yesterday, because a quorum could not be secured. Another attempt will be made next week, when several members now out of the city are expected back. The Democrats may name their congressional nominees today. William J. Brennen will appoint the committee to select the candidates.

At Citizens headquarters yesterday, the committee on meetings met and organized by electing Charles S. Crawford chairman and James W. Clarke, secretary. It was decided, as predicted in yesterday's Gazette, that the formal campaign opening in this city would be about October 1, and several dates were discussed, but none will be announced until Old City hall has been secured.

The machine has in the past blocked arrangements for Citizens meetings by securing the hall on the night advertised for the meeting.

A meeting of the committee on speakers will be called in a day or two, and the orators for the opening event will be selected. The Citizens have already commenced to see that the taxes of voters are paid and their ballots insured to them. One thousand tax receipts have already been secured and the work will be vigorously carried on.

More Registry Troubles.

A few additional cases of ring assessors, who refused to allow the registration of Citizens were reported by telephone yesterday, and the district leaders were instructed to get a list of the names refused for use in court. These lists will begin coming into headquarters next week, and prompt action will be taken to insure a vote to every man who is entitled to it.

In many cases the machine has been unable to pad the nets in the downtown wards and is making a bluff at carrying cases into the courts. It is also charged that in many wards where Citizens party assessors were elected last fall, the lists have been padded. The Citizens district leaders have been carefully scrutinizing the lists and are anxious for an investigation.

As a matter of fact, in many of the wards held tight in the grip of the machine until last February, a great number of men entitled to a vote were refused that right on some flimsy pretext, their names were not put on the registry lists.

It had figured that the popular uprising against the ring would have spent itself by this time, and that by a little manipulation they might regain much of their lost ground. Instead of that, the enormous registration, like that of last spring, presages another victory for the people, and organization men are bluffing when they talk of court proceedings.

MT. WASHINGTON PUPILS GRADUATE

CLASS OF 38 FROM HILLTOP PUBLIC SCHOOL HAVE EXERCISES.

Supt. Samuel Andrews Made a Felicitous Talk and a Large Audience Showed by Warm Applause Their Appreciation of All He Said—Other Features.

The sweet girl graduate and her boy companion of 1902 were again in evidence last evening, when, in Maennerchor hall, South Side, the thirtieth class that has completed the High school course in the Mt. Washing public schools observed annual commencement exercises.

The big school hall was crowded to its limit with the parents and friends of the graduates. Superintendent Samuel Andrews prefaced his remarks with a pretty little compliment to the students, referring to them as "the people." He commended the people of the Mt. Washington district for their progressive spirit as manifested in the interest they took in the schools and complimented the school directors for their economic and careful management. The Rev. J. W. Righter occupied about a quarter of an hour in addressing the students exclusively.

Features of the musical part of the program were the violin solos of Prof. Adolph Rosen. His work won him several encores. Prof. Rosen is a late arrival in this city, but his ability will soon bring him to the front.

The honor students were Miss Gertrude Margaret Schroth, John Leslie Thomas, Frank Ferdinand Manns, George Washington Lang and Montrose Pollock. The class numbered 38, which brings the total to 800 that have finished at the Mt. Washington schools in the 30 odd years that have elapsed since that portion of the South Side became a part of the city.

Miss Mary E. Jones and Miss Jane McKelvie delighted the audience with vocal selections, and Edward Schnieder gave some excellent music on the piano. The opening prayer was offered by the Rev. R. H. Hood. The graduates were:

Florence I. Anderson, Gordon A. Burnside, Emma B. Brown, Florence L. Boyd, William G. Blackwood, May I. Bowman, Julius W. Dietrich, Samuel R. Davis, Albert B. Enscoe, Mark B. Foley, Katie Gallagher, Clara A. Graf, Whitney S. Hammett, Grace D. Hawk, Edna M. Hartigan, Sarah E. Jones, Joseph P. Lewis, Ralph T. Lang, John H. Milligan, Howard A. Neely, George M. Oyer, Francis W. Pallant, Lillian M. Parker, Harry R. Peck, Marie E. Perry, Emma B. Ross, Gertrude W. St. Peter, Eva A. Smithyman, Annetta M. Slater, Roy Thompson, Sarah E. Ward, Edward W. Van Horst and Adelaide K. Zulauf.

On the latter cases he was fined $550 and costs and was sentenced to the workhouse for 9 months and 20 days. On the other two charges he was given 30 days.

William Myler was found guilty of assault and battery on John Hodick and will be sentenced this morning.

CITIZENS BEGIN SUIT AGAINST A WATER COMPANY

Twenty-Seven Property Owners Allege Bad Water Is Furnished Sheraden.

NOT FIT FOR THE LAUNDRY

Chartiers Valley Corporation Severely Arraigned in Bill Filed by Attorney George R. Wallace Asking for Relief—Claim Health Is Endangered.

Twenty-seven property owners of Sheraden, which is supplied with water by the Chartiers Valley Water Company, the president of which is James F. Grimes, leader of the new Ballot Reform party, have commenced proceedings in court of common pleas No. 1 against the company to compel it to provide pure water and plenty of it.

The bill in equity was filed by Attorney George R. Wallace for O. H. Bartle, M. F. Reichart, W. A. Clark, A. R. Albaugh, Frank McCune, Mrs. F. Kern, H. M. Langworthy, W. J. Blaney, John Hall, Jr.; C. A. Stevenson, E. W. Campbell, Margaret H. Jeffries, John W. Brown, S. H. Frey, J. W. Dick, E. J. Rothar, C. V. Boggs, Mrs. M. C. Smith, S. W. Blanchard, F. E. Dimond, J. W. Boden, R. J. Hawley, Henry W. Schneider, William J. Rigg, Joseph Stroup, Charles H. Hamilton and Albert Ingley.

The bill recites the act of assembly and its supplements, which provide that such corporations shall furnish pure water and that any citizen using the same may make a complaint of impurity or deficiency to the court of common pleas.

It is charged that for two years the company has failed to perform the duties imposed upon it by the acts of assembly creating it, and has failed at all times to furnish pure water or a sufficient quantity. During the last few months the service, it is alleged, has rapidly deteriorated. At frequent intervals the houses of the plaintiffs have been entirely without water. At other times the supply has been scant. The water furnished, it is stated, has been and is foul, giving off an offensive odor, makes a greasy deposit upon vessels containing it, has been extremely unwholesome and in some cases has produced serious sickness. At times, the plaintiffs say, it has been so bad that it could not even be used for laundry purposes. For one week, the plaintiffs claim, they were entirely without water and at present the supply is scant, uncertain, intermittent and of an extremely bad quality.

It is alleged that, by reason of this neglect, the plaintiffs have suffered irreparable loss and damage. They have been compelled to secure water by carrying it long distances and the lack of supply has rendered dangerous and unwholesome the drainage from both rooms and sinks. The plaintiffs say it is impossible for them to secure any proper drainage to keep their houses in sanitary condition. These conditions they allege have already resited in depreciation of the value of their properties, and unless remedied they will suffer further loss.

Frequent complaints have done no good, yet the bills are always sent promptly and no rebate is allowed for poor service. The plaintiffs say they have no other water works accessible, and unless the court makes an order compelling the company to correct the evils, the plaintiffs will continue to suffer great loss. They ask the court to order the company to correct the evils.

Attorney Wallace says the case is practically a test suit to determine whether or not this water company can furnish bad water with full bills and ignore the protests of the people. Suits are being prepared in other boroughs.

The grand jury yesterday returned a true bill for murder against Garfield McIntyre. CITY TAKES APPEAL.

Decision of Judge McClung in the Wabash Case Will Be Reviewed in Supreme Court.

City Solicitor Thomas D. Carnahan and Assistant City Solicitor William A. Blakeley yesterday took an appeal to the supreme court in the case of the city of Pittsburgh against the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western Railroad Company, better known as the Wabash system.

The city sought to restrain the Wabash from constructing an abutment on the wharf at the foot of Ferry street. Judge S. A. McClung in common pleas court No. 3, about a year ago, refused the prayer of the city, and this decree was made absolute Thursday.

By the papers on file it is shown that the lawyers for the city and those representing the railroad company have come to an understanding relative to some of the points in the case. They have agreed that the railroad company has expended in Allegheny and Washington counties upwards of $1,000,000, and that when the connections are complete there will be a system of transportation between Pittsburgh and Jewett, O., with connections west. It is also agreed among the lawyers that the defendant is actually engaged in the construction of its road.

TRUST MUST CONTINUE.

Union Company Tells Terms Under Which It Holds Hostetter Bonds.

An answer was filed yesterday by the Union Trust Company to the bill in equity of Robert S. Robb, administrator of the estate of Theodore R. Hostetter. It was alleged Hostetter placed certain bonds in trust with the company, and that it refused to release them or state their worth.

The trust company says the property in its possession is as follows: 100 $1,000 bonds Corona Coal & Iron Company; 288 $1,000 bonds of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railway Company. It is declared that the defendant refused to surrender these bonds to the plaintiff because the trust is irrevocable until October 1, 1905.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

Application was made for a charter for the Ellconeid Italian Independent club.

Thomas B. Shanley sued Joseph Haney of Duquesne for $5,000 damages for alleged assault.

In the case of J. L. Hass and others against James M. Chadwick, an attachment was issued against the defendant for contempt.

By the will of Ferdinand Voelkel of Pittsburgh, $50 is left to Dauphin Harbors and the residue of a $4,000 estate is bequeathed to near relatives.

Letters of administration were granted as follows: To Mary Geiger on the $1,200 estate of Peter D. Geiger; to R. W. Cowan on the $5,540 estate of Mary J. Cowan.

Suit for divorce was entered by Carrie Cannon of McKeesport against August Cannon, alleging desertion. They were married December 14, 1884, and separated on August 28, 1888.

Executions were issued as follows: Annie Phillips vs. Charles N. Morza et al., $500; Alexis Hamburger vs. A. E. Streiner et al., $500; Pittsburgh Brewing Company vs. J. F. Ward, $800.

Application was made for a charter for the Master Barbers' association of Allegheny county. The incorporators are J. William Moore, F. Lauffer, Jacob C. Felix, Fred Lackey and Louis Sabad.

A foreign attachment was issued yesterday by W. E. Terhune & Co. against Thompson-Starrett Company and the Keystone bank was served as garnishee. It is alleged that the defendants owe the plaintiff $8,000 for lumber.

L. Freedman has sued John Nowell for $500 damages. The plaintiff says that upon January 18 last a wagon in which he was riding collided with one of the defendant's wagons at Smithfield street and Fifth avenue, injuring him severely.

The will of Andrew B. Stevenson was filed for probate. The estate is worth $48,000. This was bequeathed to the decedent's wife and son, John C. Stevenson. At the death of the widow the estate is to be divided among the decedent's children. Attorney S. Harry Thompson represents the estate.

Mrs. Sadie Cramer entered suit against C. J. Appleby, tax collector of Tarentum, for $1,000 damages. The plaintiff says she intended to move from Tarentum, but the plaintiff made a levy upon her goods as they were being taken to the station. At the time she had only a few dollars, and she had trouble with her husband and was compelled to leave him, which placed her in a very humiliating position.

R. A. Wilson entered suit against W. D. McGill, T. J. Gillespie and R. F. McKnight, members of the local committee of the Young People's Christian union of the United Presbyterian church. The complaint was filed in this city August 2-7. The plaintiff claims he was to have the exclusive right to make and sell souvenirs at the convention, and that the defendants violated the agreement. The plaintiff asks for $200.

Judge Josiah Cohen in the orphans' court yesterday handed down an opinion in the estate of Andrew Rosensiel upon exceptions to the insufficiency of the amount for which the executors leased the realty of the deceased. The court says that under the facts in the case there is every presumption that the executors in renting acted as agent for the owners, none of whom for four years attempted to rent. The exceptions are dismissed.

HARMONY DEFERRED.

No Election of Officers by the Independent Glass Company Yesterday.

Twenty-seven of the 28 directors of the Independent Glass Company were in session at the Hotel Lincoln only about an hour yesterday in a meeting which was expected to take some important steps in the deal for harmony among the glass-producing interests. The meeting was to have elected officers for the next year. Those in interest say that all these matters were deferred to another meeting, which will be called by President C. F. Cole.

All this will cause just so much delay in the deal for harmony. All of the concerns, members of the Independent Glass Company and the Federation Window Glass Company and the American Window Glass Company have agreed to hold the start of factories over till October 1.

While it is not officially so stated, it is understood that the delay of action yesterday was because a majority interest of the company is insistent that the present officers be continued, while the other interests in the proposed harmony deal wanted a successor named for Secretary H. B. VanCleve, who led the fight for the Independent Company last fire. Friends of VanCleve say that the longer the fight wages against him the stronger he becomes in the company.

It is also said that some of the interests require that 3,500 of the window glass pot capacity of the country must be included in the harmony deal or it will be dropped. Over 3,200 pots have now been practically lined up.

WAS A PECULIAR WRECK.

Five Locomotives Mixed in a Smash-Up on Junction Road at Bad Luck Hollow.

In a peculiar freight wreck on the Junction railroad at Sylvan avenue at 5 a. m. yesterday Engineer William A. Hunter of No. 360 North Arch street, Connellsville, was severely injured on the hip and by shock. He was taken to Mercy hospital, where it was stated that in all probability he will recover.

Five engines were mixed up in the wreck, although there were but two trains. It was at the spot which has come to be known as "Bad Luck Hollow." There is a heavy grade there, and accidents have been numerous. It was this grade that caused the wreck yesterday. Engine No. 1621 with a heavy westbound freight train stalled on the grade and was being helped by engines Nos. 1768 and 1758. Engine No. 357 was being run dead in the train.

Following close behind this train was engine No. 1281 with another train, which ran into the rear of the first. The unusual sight of one engine running into two others was seen. Three cars were wrecked and the engines more or less disabled. The tracks were blocked for three or four hours.

DEAD FROGS.

Were Killed By Coffee.

15-1000th of a single grain of caffeine from coffee will kill a frog of moderate size. The frogs die of general paralysis following violent tetanic convulsions.

Falck, Stuhlmann, Brill, Johansen, Leven and other famous scientists, and investigators have repeatedly proven it.

This same alkaloid caffeine, a powerful cerebro-spinal stimulant and diuretic irritant, was originally discovered in 1820. Eight years later theine was discovered in tea and the two drugs were afterwards proven to be identical. Caffeine in coffee causes the sleeplessness, increased frequency of the pulse, tremulousness of heart, and frequent urination noticed after drinking strong coffee. This explains the cause of the nervous diseases that frequently come to regular coffee and tea drinkers. The drug slowly and surely poisons the system and finally brings on some form of fixed disease like valvular heart disease, dyspepsia, kidney complaint or some other, unless the person is strong enough to stand up against the drug.

Practically every steady coffee or tea drinker shows some form of incipient disease. Ask anyone you know and you will seldom find one entirely well.

Where's the use in slugging and drugging the poor old body until it totters and trembles with diseased nerves?

Can't quit?

It is one of the easiest things you ever tried to do if you will have Postum Food Coffee made right and served hot with good cream and sugar. There is the deep seal brown of rich coffee that turns to golden brown when cream is added. Then the flavor is unique, all its own. Try it ten days or two weeks and your dyspepsia will either leave or show good signs of leaving, and your heart and pulse be stronger than for a long time back. It is one of the most delicious sensations known, to feel returning health and vigor. Health makes heaven here on earth, and people can have it if they will but live as nature intended.

Quit coffee and use the food beverage Postum Coffee.

SHELTER HOUSES FOR SOUTH SIDE

DIRECTOR M'CANDLESS HAS IDEAS FOR PARKS IN THAT SECTION.

He Proposes to Provide Two of the Breathing Spots With Commodious Buildings—Addition to McKinley Park Acreage Will Meet Opposition.

Director McCandless of the department of public works will have an ordinance introduced in councils next Monday providing for the employment of an architect to draw plans for shelter houses in the South Side parks. If the ordinance is passed the director will name the architect.

Controller Larkin has taken a decided stand against this method of getting plans for public buildings, and it is not believed that he will pay for the work if the plans are procured in such a manner. The controller holds that, according to law, competitive plans must be invited and the best selected.

Only two of the South Side parks are to get shelter houses—West End park and Grandview park. Director McCandless says the smaller parks on the South Side do not need shelter houses, as they are so small that there is scarcely anything to be gained by erecting the houses in them. The director says that it is his intention to provide commodious buildings that will afford shelter from the weather and contain places of public comfort. Director McCandless says he expects to do as much as possible for the South Side.

More Land Purchases Opposed.

The plans for the Highland park shelter houses have not been handed to the director, but as soon as they are and are approved he will advertise for bids for their construction. He hopes to have work on these houses begun this fall.

A movement is on foot among the citizens of the Thirty-first ward to have the city purchase a small piece of land adjoining McKinley park and add it to the park. It is said to be much more suitable for park purposes than the park itself. The movement has gained some strength among the citizens, but it is believed that it will meet hard sledding in councils, as it is evident that the city administration is opposed to it. Director McCandless goes on the theory that the city has already enough land for park purposes, and that the proper thing to do now is to use the money available in improving the land already owned. The director has a large following in councils on this proposition.

The desire of the director to leave the impress of his administration upon the park system is rapidly growing. It was this desire that stood in the way of the building of the Wilmot street bridge, which many citizens of the Fourteenth ward would like to have, and which an equal number of citizens of that ward say is not a necessity.

McCandless Declared Himself Early.

The only way that bridge could be built was to take $100,000 from the Schenley park fund, and Director McCandless began his fight on that the day after he was appointed director of public works. "Every cent we have for park purposes," said the director at that time, "should be used for park purposes and nothing else."

Director McCandless fought Recorder Brown on the proposition, as the recorder himself favored building the bridge just prior to the councilmanic election in February. He commissioned Max G. Leslie to get it through councils, but it struck a snag in the finance committee, and Director McCandless plainly told the committee that he did not favor the bridge, as a foot bridge would answer the purpose, while an expensive bridge would furnish neither utility nor ornament.

TWELVE PAGES.

Abominably Poor Cab Service.

The cab service at the railroad depots in this city is notably bad. It is not more than an even chance that a traveler will be able to get a cab when he inquires for one. There is no effort made to accommodate the traveling public in this respect, either by having sufficient cabs at the stands or by taking orders on the trains. Some years ago an agent was employed to canvass trains some distance out of the city, but that system was abandoned without any other provision being made.

There is no excuse for dereliction in this matter. The new Union depot has ample accommodation for cabs and the other depots offer fair facilities. Yet the service has depreciated rather than improved. The cab is never in evidence when it is wanted. Pittsburgh does not compare favorably with other cities in this respect—even smaller places where cab service is in less demand. There is a well-defined protest growing against this state of affairs that should be met by the railroad managements by introducing an up-to-date system.

Close Speakeasies First.

Superintendent McAleese's tardy determination to stop the practice of licensed vendors selling liquor to minors and women is better late than never. This reform might profitably have begun months ago, before the murder of a woman in the back parlor of a saloon called general public attention to the fact that special facilities were afforded for that traffic.

Even now it seems the police superintendent should devote more energy to suppressing the speakeasies than to correcting lax conduct of licensed places. Speakeasies usually welcome any custom they can get, without regard to age, sex or condition. They are notoriously numerous and harmful. They are reputed to be protected by the police. Unless those lawless resorts are closed first the crusade against licensed drinking places will have the flavor of a movement to compel minors and women to patronize the speakeasies, rather than that of a genuine reform.

Honors to the Brave.

The public ovation to the Boer generals in London was a deserved tribute to men who had honorably met defeat in the long war in South Africa. The ending of the war has softened the animosities aroused by the strife, and yesterday Dewet, Delarey and Botha, heroes of a lost cause, were applauded for the second time by crowds in the streets of the great metropolis.

The British government has been remarkably generous in its dealings with the defeated burghers, and the good impression thus created will be strengthened by the kindly reception of the men who led the armies of resistance and who for a time dealt such staggering blows to the hosts sent against them. It is a good beginning of the new methods in South Africa, and there is every reason for believing that the country so long rent by strife has entered upon a lasting era of peace and good fellowship between former foes.

Iowa Democrats Are Learning.

Mr. Bryan was delighted with the treatment he and the Kansas City platform received at the hands of the Ohio Democrats, but he must have been saddened by the way in which both were ignored by the Democrats of Iowa. The convention at Sandusky professed unbounded and "continued confidence in the leadership of that matchless commoner, William J. Bryan," but the convention at Des Moines gave no sign of knowledge that the "peerless one" is still trying to keep himself before the people. The Democratic platform of Iowa makes no mention whatever of Mr. Bryan, the silver question, or the Kansas City platform.

The especial significance of the refusal to reaffirm the last national platform of the party, after a protracted discussion, lies in the fact that this was the first Democratic convention of Iowa since that of 1896 to ignore the silver question. The convention which met in Dubuque in that year declared specifically in favor of free silver coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1. Now the Democrats of Iowa know better. It has taken them a rather long time to learn, but they have learned at last. They are wiser than their fellows in Ohio, however, who are much slower students in the school of political wisdom.

The Business Situation.

The uniformly favorable tenor of the advices relating to the crops was disturbed this week by the government figures on cotton. These showed the average condition of the crop to be 64 per cent, a deterioration of nearly 18 per cent during the month of August. This is the lowest estimated condition at this season for more than a score of years. A month ago the trade estimated a maximum yield of 12,000,000 bales. Today the indications are that the yield will fall below 11,000,000 bales. The effect of the report upon the market was an advance of $1 25 a bale on the day of publication, and since then the fluctuations have been more or less violent. The damage to the crop came from the drought which prevailed over a portion of the belt during July and part of August. The loss will not be the blow to the south that the shortage in the corn crop last year was to the west, because the former section has been diversifying its products; but there will be general regret that the fine prospects of the early season have been marred.

Cotton is one of the first, as corn is one of the last, of our farm crops to be marketed abroad, and frequently the money market has depended upon cotton export bills to attract gold hither at a time when the banks were sending currency west to move the spring wheat and corn crops. During September and October last year the value of our exports of cotton amounted to $63,000,000, and for the corresponding months of the preceding year to $80,500,000.

The stock market, which is the most sensitive barometer of general trade conditions, did not give much attention to the government crop report. It may be that the experience gleaned from last year's shortage of corn was responsible for the maintenance of buoyancy in the face of the adverse showing. It was the general opinion last winter that the damage to corn would be reflected in reduced railroad earnings, owing to a falling off in traffic. But the weekly reports of railroads, even the grain carriers, have been an almost unbroken record of gains in gross earnings, showing that other kinds of traffic had increased sufficiently to offset the loss of corn tonnage.

The most important development in industrial circles was the action of the bituminous coal miners of West Virginia in voting to return to work on Monday. Efforts to bring about a settlement of the anthracite coal strike have been unavailing, but in the very nature of things the end is nearer today than it was a week ago. With a resumption of mining a number of industrial concerns, including eastern blast furnaces, which have been compelled to suspend on account of a lack of fuel, will begin operations, and the business of a large section of the state will be revived into activity.

The stock market this week was extremely active, the transactions on Wednesday being the largest for any day this year. At the same time values reached the highest level ever quoted. In some instances values may not have had a sound basis—or rather, they may have more than discounted the prosperity, with which the country continues to be blessed—but there is no mistaking the evidence that appears on all hands of confidence in the future.

A Mournful Anniversary.

Today marks the first anniversary of the assassination of President McKinley. Swift-moving events have deadened the first keen sense of national grief and horror, but the fearful incidents of the fatal day in Buffalo one year ago have left a scar on the hearts of thousands of loyal citizens who held the dead ruler in loving esteem, and to whom his memory will always be a precious heritage. In the broad field of national affairs the spirit of William McKinley still lives, and no single feature of his successor's administration has won wider praise than the earnest purpose manifested in all his official acts to carry out the noble designs of administrative policy inaugurated by the dead chieftain.

Danish Islands Will Be Ours.

Uncle Sam can now get the money ready to pay for the Danish West Indian islands. They will be ours before a great while. Everybody is willing. That is, there is as much unanimity about the transaction as is possible in a matter where so many persons' opinions have to be taken into consideration. It has required a long time to collect the views of all concerned, including the Danish government, the residents of the islands, the members of the folkething and the landsthing, and of individual Danes all over the kingdom. But these opinions are all in at last. The selling of Danish colonies was a question of too much importance to settle without giving the people of Denmark an opportunity to have their say. It was made an issue in the elections. The question was to sell or not to sell, and it was decided in the affirmative. Complete returns have reached Copenhagen. They show large ministerial gains in the membership of the landsthing, insuring the ratification of the treaty ceding the islands of St. Croix, St. Thomas and St. John to the United States. The rigsdag meets on the first Monday of October and soon afterward the upper house will express its approval of the proposed international real estate transaction. The inhabitants of the Danish West Indies may prepare to celebrate the American festival on Thanksgiving Day.

Real Ballot Reform.

A report is current that State Chairman Quay favors that reform which will include a return to the vest pocket ballot. It is to be hoped this is true. The Australian ballot, pure or adulterated, has been a failure wherever tried in this country. It is cumbrous, expensive, confusing and not secret.

The vest pocket ballot is convenient, inexpensive and discouraging to various forms of fraud that have been practiced upon the blanket ballot. It needs only the voting booth and official envelope to make it absolutely secret. It is simpler far than any blanket ballot that could be devised and gives to the voter the opportunity to have his wife or a family friend assist him in making up his ticket at home without the possibility of trickery or exposure. In fact, it will allow a man to write his ballot, yet, when enclosed in the official envelope within the booth, it will look like any other ballot to the election officers and watchers, when deposited.

Senator Quay has ample experience in election matters to be able to distinguish between a genuine and bogus reform. No doubt this knowledge will lead him toward indorsement of the vest pocket ballot, personal registration and uniform primary. Therein lies honesty, purity, effectiveness and secrecy of the ballot.

Needs of the Navy.

In an article in the current issue of the North American Review attention is directed by Lieut. Commander Roy C. Smith to the condition of the United States navy. We have ships, and money to build more, but we have not the sailors to man the ships nor the officers to command the men. This is something of an old story, but it is a story which ought to be retold until the need is supplied. The bare statement of the fact that there are absolutely no crews for the splendid ships that have been finished lately should compel congress to supply the men, and arouse public opinion to demand prompt action of congress.

The need has been known for years, but no adequate steps have been taken to meet it. Navy department officials have often told congress the new ships would require new men, but congress exhausted its energy in authorizing the ships. The result is that costly and intricate pieces of fighting machinery are unprovided with men who know how to take care of and use them effectively. It is decidedly startling to learn from Lieut. Commander Smith the number of seagoing officers has not been increased at all since the days of wooden steamers, while only small additions to the number of enlisted men have been authorized. It should be remembered that only carefully trained men can handle modern warships, and long training is needed to insure efficiency. Congress cannot begin a moment too soon to provide for an adequate manning of the navy.

A builders' estimate on filtration is needed before anything further is done in that line. Unless that estimate shall materially reduce the cost of the proposed system the city had better look for a cheaper method than sand beds and a more effective. There are not sufficient funds to meet the estimate of the engineers and the temper of the voters is not very favorable to more bond issues at present.

It is odd how vociferously the politicians who endeavored to exclude a number of duly accredited delegates from the music fund hall by force denounce the superior force of the politicians who broke in. The whole affair was deplorable, but the force campaign was inaugurated by the fellows who came out second best and is certainly no more creditable to them than to the other faction.

In the death of Prof. Rudolf Virchow the scientific world loses a leader and colaborer. Prof. Virchow won for himself a foremost place among those noble men who devote their lives, energies and superior intelligence to the welfare of the human race. That is one of the highest honors to which man can attain.

Since the Democratic campaign has opened the wonder grows that it should be composed of complaints about the other fellow to the exclusion of everything else. Is the Democracy ashamed of what it has done in state and nation and ashamed of its party policies?

Ohio Democrats probably expect to get the Congregational vote by nominating for secretary of state the Rev. Herbert S. Bigelow, pastor of the Vine Street Congregational Church, Cincinnati. The reverend gentleman will be wise not to resign his pulpit just yet.

Though the British Labor Union congress declares its opposition to war it is not ready to accept compulsory arbitration. Typifying the combination of labor it lifts up its voice against the combination of capital. Rather an illogical platform.

President Baer declares that he never said the strike was a private affair which did not concern the public. This is a concession, but it does not appear that the interests of the public are receiving much consideration even now.

Petroleum drinking as a habit is spreading so rapidly in France that the Medical Society of Paris advises immediate steps to check it. Pennsylvania produces petroleum, but does not recommend it as a beverage.

Volcanic activity continues on both sides of the globe with a persistence that might portend the elevation of a new chain of mountains or the sinking of a new valley under the sea.

Strenuous language is hardly adequate to the imbecility or worse of recklessly running a trolley car into the president's conveyance.

In a New Role.

Tom L. Johnson takes pains to make it known that he stands for the principles advocated by Mr. Bryan, and, in case the Nebraska orator persists in his determination not to be a candidate, will no doubt be ready to conscientiously discharge the duties of an understudy.

ROOSEVELT MAKES VERY LIGHT OF IT

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Sept. 5.

It is not often that New Yorkers have an opportunity to gaze at a president of the United States decorated with a black eye. Those who were at the Pennsylvania railroad depot in Jersey City this afternoon had that privilege. President Roosevelt started about 1 o'clock for Washington and the crowd that greeted him as he stepped ashore from the launch which landed him from the yacht that brought him from Oyster Bay saw that his experience at Pittsfield had left marks on his face that will not be obliterated for many days. The president laughed about it, but it must have pained him to move his features. He could not keep his glasses on without difficulty, and although he would not confess it, he must have been in considerable pain. He is quoted as saying to Gen. Clarkson at the depot today: "When a middle-aged man can fall on the top of his head and not meet with more serious injury than I it shows he's in pretty good condition, physically." This may be all right for the president, but the expressions of apprehension from the crowd that watched him make his way to the train proved that the public—at least that part of it—did not care to know that the chief executive of the nation had been compelled to take such risks. President Roosevelt will go to Wheeling after visiting Washington, and there may be an opportunity for some Pittsburghers to see how he looks when he reaches that part of the country. It evidently was unpleasant to the president to know that the bruises on his face were the object of general curiosity, even although seven-eighths of the curiosity was sympathy. He is not accustomed to being pitied, and his disposition is to make light of the whole matter, so far as he is personally concerned. It was to be supposed he closely watched on his first visit to New York, however, and he submitted with the best grace he could to the scrutiny of several hundred persons who had gathered to see him pass through. The general expression after the train had passed out was that the nation should be grateful it was no worse.

Turtle Creek Girls in the City.

Miss Martha Boyd and Miss Jean Long, whose home is in Turtle Creek, and who are well known in Pittsburgh society circles, are at the Holland house, spending a few days in this city shopping and attending the theaters. They came here from Atlantic City and expect to get home to Pittsburgh at the beginning of next week.

Influenza Conditions.

Seldom have there been more people with colds in this city than is the case now. Sneezing and coughing in chorus are features of travel in public conveyances, of elevators, of offices, of stores and of the streets. It seems as if every second person one meets has a cold or is threatened with one. The cause of it all is the changeable weather, of course. At the beginning of the week it was oppressively hot; today it has been downright chilly. What tomorrow will be no one can tell, although the indications are that it will be cool enough to help along the influenza conditions so generally prevailing.

Pittsburgh Horse Lover Outbid.

Capt. S. S. Brown of Pittsburgh was the opening bidder for the great race horse, Imp, when that animal was put up at auction at Sheepshead Bay today. Capt. Brown's bid was $2,500, but the figures went higher rapidly. Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., offered $3,000 and John E. Madden raised him. Imp went at last to Ed Tinton for $4,100. The prevailing opinion among racing men here is that the famous mare went at a fair price, while some think that Tipton got a bargain. Capt. Brown thinks that his own bid of $2,500 represented her value, however.

Victim of the Hunting Accident.

It was a sad party, indeed, that came into the Grand Central station in Forty-second street this evening with the body of Maj. Charles M. Smylie, who was accidentally shot by Judge Charles E. Storrs yesterday in the Adirondacks. Judge Storrs and the widow of the deceased man were together, and it would be hard to say which showed the more grief. Arrangements had been made to take the casket away as soon as it arrived, and there was little opportunity for casual observers to see anything of it. The funeral services will be held on Monday in Dr. Parkhurst's church in Madison square.

Carrie Nation as Enthusiastic as Ever.

Carrie Nation blew into town today. She had come from Bayonne, N. J., where she lectured last night, and she was as gustily enthusiastic over what she calls her "great work" as ever. She wore a long linen crash coat with a black silk handkerchief around her neck and a Carrie Nation bonnet surmounting the whole. She took luncheon at a downtown hotel and submitted to an interview with her usual grace. She lectured this evening at Rockaway.

Better Streets for Chinatown.

Chinatown is to be asphalted. The denizens of the dirty, crooked streets at Mott, Pell and Doyers, which comprise the Mongolian quarter of New York, are dismayed, and frightened whispers are rife tonight among groups of Chinamen in many an underground laundry and secret smoking room. The work of regeneration is to begin with Doyers street. This is the dingiest, crookedest, ugliest street of the three. It also is the shortest. When the cobblestones, with their many years' accumulations of filth between them, are removed from Doyers street and fresh asphalt laid, the street cleaning department will be able to turn on water with good effect. Then Pell street will be attacked, and, after that, the lower part of Mott street, where Chinamen congregate. Mott street is a long thoroughfare, and parts of it, known, are occupied by Italians and people of other nationalities. The lower end, abutting on Chatham square, is given up almost entirely to Chinamen, and it is that part which is to be improved forthwith. How the Chinese population will stand it remains to be seen. Certainly they look upon it in advance with the utmost disfavor.

Electric Power for New York Central.

Official announcement was made today that the New York Central Railroad Company intends to substitute electricity for steam as motive power for all its trains on the Hudson River and Harlem divisions of its road within the city limits. On the Hudson division the electric cars will be operated probably as far as Croton, and on the Harlem to White Plains. The disaster in the tunnel last winter has never been out of the minds of commuters using that road, and although it has been stated casually that electricity was to be substituted for steam power as soon as it could be done, it was not until today that the positive announcement was made.

Shakers' Work to Be Exhibited.

The Professional Woman's league has engaged a party of Shakers from the settlement at New Lebanon to appear at the woman's exhibition in Madison Square garden this fall. The delegation will consist of 25 young women, who will be seen engaged in the various occupations which make their community self-sustaining.

Theaters Against Ticket Speculators.

The war on the ticket speculators by theater managers waxes warm as the season opens. A speculator named Marks, who is one of the most determined of the fraternity, and is, in fact, the head of the guild, was arrested in front of the Knickerbocker last night and was arraigned in court today. Marks says he has as much right to sell tickets as have hotels and cigar dealers, and he will fight the managers to the bitter end. His examination is set for tomorrow. The result is awaited with keen interest, not only by theatrical men and speculators, but by the public at large, which is the real sufferer after all.

Tammany Bosship Possibilities.

Who is to be leader of Tammany hall? Assuming that Richard Croker will not return to New York, the struggle for leadership has narrowed down to Murphy, known to fame, by grace of "Big Bill" Devery, as "Sport," and John F. Carroll. Carroll is regarded as a strong man, who knows the city and Tammany equally well, and who is honest of purpose, at least. Carroll has taken as in earnest Croker's declaration that he will never be leader of Tammany hall again, and feels that he has as much right as any one to aspire to the shoes of the boss. Not much has been heard of Devery in this connection since the barbecue, but the ex-chief of police looks on himself as a very live candidate, notwithstanding.

Platt Denies Conferring With Quay.

Street gossip here does not suggest hopefulness of the speedy end of the strike in the anthracite regions. When asked today whether he and Senator Quay had held a conference on the coal strike question, Senator Platt said that they had not. He was plainly annoyed that such a report had gone forth, and in an irritated manner characterized the rumor as false. Senator Quay, before starting for Lake Placid in the Adirondacks, where he has gone with his son Richard, refused absolutely to say whether he and the senior senator from the Empire State had discussed the coal strike.

Persecution of Small Peddlers.

Push-cart peddlers have a hard time of it in this city. They are chased by the police, robbed by the gamins, and occasionally dragged to the police station on a charge of obstructing the sidewalks or roadways. A city magistrate today gave them another back-hander. He said push-cart men are "unnecessary evils," are generally not citizens, detract from the trade of merchants who pay rent while they do not, and in general are nuisances. Twelve of the peddlers, who were arraigned on trivial charges, were fined $5 each. The most incongruous feature of all this is that licenses are issued to these men, for which they pay money, but on account of which they do not seem to have any rights that the police are bound to respect.

Peril of the Dramatic Artist.

It is a dangerous thing for a stage director to become too deeply absorbed in his work unless he has a body guard. Mrs. Haines, who wrote a play called "Hearts Aflame" last winter, and is preparing it for presentation at the Bijou on Monday next, tumbled backward from the stage into the orchestra pit yesterday afternoon. Strange to say, she did not break her neck. She only bruised herself in several places, including her temper. She had been backing away from a stage picture that she had just arranged, and was so taken up with the contemplation of the grouping of the actors that she backed over the footlights, and stood on her head behind the conductor's desk. There have been many serious accidents of this kind, and Mrs. Haines might be congratulated on her escape, if it were safe to mention the incident in her presence.

Bicycle Records to Be Attacked.

Notwithstanding the prominence of the automobile, the once supreme bicycle is not altogether on the shelf. Many enthusiastic wheelmen of this city are still seeking to break records. For instance, three members of the Century Road Club of America, George Armstrong, Harry Galbraith and W. B. Ferguson, all noted long-distance riders, will start next Sunday at Valley stream at intervals of one hour apart and strive to break the unpaced record for 100 miles, made by Wilson Higginson last Sunday, his time for the distance being 5 hours and 37 minutes.

McKinley Shot a Year Ago.

A group of men about town were standing outside one of the upper Broadway hotels tonight, talking on general topics, when one of them broke out suddenly: "Do any of you remember that a year ago today President McKinley was shot? This is not the exact date in the calendar of the month, but it was the first Friday in September, just as this is." As the speaker stopped, every hat in the party was raised in involuntary reverence of the memory of the murdered president. On that first Friday in September, a year ago—it was September 6—the president of the United States, in the best of health and enjoying the confidence and respect, not only of his countrymen, but of all other countries, was shot down in the Temple of Music of the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo; but the men standing in Broadway had never thought of it until brought to their memory. How many Pittsburghers will think of it tonight?

The Judge and the Bishop.

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia college, and who was given a degree last commencement day by the University of Pennsylvania, was recently engaged in talking with a friend about the careers of various Columbia graduates who had gone ahead in the world. One of two alumni whose names had come up had been recently created a judge; the other a bishop.

"Well," said President Butler's friend, "the latter has the better position, I think. A judge, at the most, can say only: 'You'll be hanged;' but a bishop can say: 'You'll be damned.'"

"That's true, as to the saying part," replied Butler; "but, if the judge says: 'You'll be hanged,' you will be hanged."

KING OF SPAIN TO VISIT CAPITALS

His Attitude Toward Schools Has Given Offense to the Vatican.

By the MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

King Alfonso of Spain is to visit soon after Christmas Paris, Vienna and Berlin. Whether he will likewise go to England and Russia on that occasion, or reserve his call on the rulers of those two countries for a later occasion, is not yet decided. Of course he will not go to Italy owing to the attitude of the papacy which renders it impossible for any Roman Catholic to visit Rome without affronting either the king or the pope. There is no doubt the young Spanish monarch will receive a warm welcome in the various foreign capitals he visits, as there is something always interesting in a boy king, especially when he happens to have been born a soverign, a lot which falls to but few crowned heads.

Either Cardinal Prisco has acted in flagrant contradiction to the views of the pontiff, and the directions of the holy seat, or else the papacy has at length cut itself adrift from the Bourbon cause in Italy. For the cardinal in question made use the other day of his authority as Archbishop of Naples, to suspend from his ecclesiastical functions the rector of the church of Santa Maria Del Carmine at Naples for having, in defiance of his prohibition, celebrated with extraordinary pomp a solemn mass in behalf of the grand master of the Constantinian order of St. George.

Pretender to a Throne.

The grand master in question is no other than Don Alfonso di Borboun, count of Caserta, claimant to the throne of Naples and of the two Sicilies, while the Constantinian order of St. George is nothing more or less than a political organization, legitimist in character and composed entirely of the adherents of the pretender. The late king of Naples, elder brother of the count of Caserta, was a warm friend of the papacy, and after the annexation of his kingdom by Victor Emmanuel in 1862, and the loss of his crown, sought refuge at Rome with his consort, and lived there as an honored guest of Pius IX. until in 1870 the Eternal City became the capital of United Italy.

Ever since the overthrow of the Neapolitan throne the papacy has always been regarded as championing the cause of the Neapolitan branch of the house of Bourbon. In fact, it has generally been understood the vatican strongly favored a Bourbon restoration at Naples and in Sicily.

The action of the cardinal archbishop of Naples, therefore, in coming out flat-footed against the Bourbon pretender against his cause and against his adherent at Naples is worthy of note, especially at the present moment, when so determined an effort is being made in the former Bourbon kingdom of Sicily to arouse the whole population of the island against the government in connection with the recent conviction and sentence to 30 years' imprisonment of Palizzolo, acknowledged chief of the Mafia, deputy for Palermo, the capital of the island, and up to the time of his conviction, the all-powerful political boss of Sicily.

Mafia Stirring Up Trouble.

The Mafia and its friends, bent on the liberation of Palizzolo at all costs, realizing that his remaining imprisoned will constitute a death blow to the Mafia society, are publicly ascribing his conviction at Bologna entirely to political prejudices and to the antagonism which the Italians of the north always entertain toward the Italians of the south, and especially to the Sicilians. I hear the situation in Sicily is extremely serious, and no active are the agents of the Mafia there no insurrection is looked for against the government, which will require the expenditure of much treasure and blood before it is suppressed.

That the church should at the present moment come out so strongly at Naples against the pretender to the thrones of Naples and Sicily is of considerable advantage to the Italian government. It is quite possible the action of the vatican in the matter may have been prompted by its anger and disappointment at the discovery that the count of Caserta's son, the prince of the Asturias, brother-in-law and mentor of the young king of Spain, has declined to use his predominant influence over the latter to prevent him from giving his royal signature to those decrees destined to subject the religious orders and associations in Spain to the same disciplinary measures on the part of the government as those which have fallen to their share recently in Portugal and France. It is well known the papal court is profoundly indignant at the attitude of the young king of Spain in giving his sanction to the action of the Liberal administration and holds the prince of the Asturias largely, if not wholly, responsible for the position assumed in the affair by the boy monarch.

Highest Honor Bestowed.

While the dispatches from Berlin have devoted much attention to the enumeration of the orders and souvenirs presented by the German kaiser and Prince Henry in connection with the latter's visit to America, they fail to make any mention of the principal distinctions granted. These have fallen to the share of M. G. Seckendorff of Washington, D. C., who has just received from the emperor the second class of the order of the crown, the insignia of the latter consisting of a cross worn from a ribbon around the neck and a star on the left breast. No other German-American citizen has ever been thus honored, the highest orders ever conferred so far, either in connection with Prince Henry's visit, or for other reasons, having been the third class either of the crown or of the red eagle. The German ambassador alone holds an order of higher rank than the one now conferred upon M. G. Seckendorff.

The reason for the grant of this exceptional distinction must be sought in the personal intimate relations between Prince Henry and M. G. Seckendorff, and likewise in the fact that the latter's family have for the past 200 years been in every generation closely associated with the reigning house of Prussia. Indeed there are few families of the German aristocracy that can show such a long list of members who have held positions of trust and confidence at court as the Seckendorffs. Thus the chief of Prince Henry's household has ever since he came of age been Admiral Baron Seckendorff, while the grandmaster of the household and most devoted friend of the late Empress Frederick, and large beneficiary under the terms of her will, was Count Cotz Seckendorff, elder brother of the M. G. Seckendorff, who makes his home in this country, for the independence of which at least two Seckendorffs fought under Washington. The American Seckendorff, who was led by his marriage to a charming American now dead, to establish himself in the United States more than 20 years ago and who has made his home here ever since with his children, has, like a sensible man, dropped his title of count as not in keeping with American ideas. I may add that from Prince Henry he has received, in addition to a gold cigar case set with precious stones, an almost life size portrait, beautifully framed.

A Wonderful Root.

From the Railsman's Journal.

Emery Eyres of Gulich township, while traversing the woods on June 20, saw what he believed to be a ginseng stack. In this he was not disappointed and succeeded in getting the root from the ground in good shape. He took the root to Jamesville and had it weighed in the presence of witnesses, when it was found to weigh 6½ ounces. It measured 16½ inches in length and 6½ in circumference. It had all appearances of a parsnip full grown, and can be seen at the hotel of J. E. Herdman, where it is on exhibition. This is the more remarkable when it is known that ginseng is a very tender plant, seldom getting above one inch in diameter and three inches in length. It is quoted in the market as worth 50 cents an ounce.

PERSONALS.

The train bearing President Roosevelt to Wheeling will arrive in that city two Pullmans short this morning. It was discovered shortly before the presidential train reached Cumberland that the Pullman cars, Atlantic and Manhattan, were too large to pass through the tunnels between Cumberland and Wheeling. They were cut out of the train at Cumberland and sent to Wheeling via Pittsburgh. They arrived in the Glenwood yards early this morning and were sent over the Wheeling division, where they will be again attached to the train. Late last night Supt. L. G. Hass stated that he did not know who would be on the two Pullmans when they arrived at the Glenwood yards, but he was sure the president would not be one of the passengers.

D. J. Durrell, assistant superintendent of motive power of the Southwest system of the Pennsylvania lines west, with headquarters at Columbus, passed through the city last night to his home in Dunkirk, N. Y., on sick leave. While waiting for his train at Union station he said that about 20 per cent of the motive power of the system was in excellent condition and that the other 20 per cent was almost useless. Steps are now being taken to replace it with new motive power.

ANOTHER PASTOR ADDED

First Christian Church Gets the Rev. Edwin W. Thornton, an Experienced Preacher—What the Pulpits Have to Offer Tomorrow.

With renewed life and vigor the churches will begin tomorrow the fall work. The morning services will find every pastor, with few exceptions, at his post, strong mentally and physically. There is to be an addition to the pastors of Pittsburgh in the person of the Rev. Edwin W. Thornton, who will take charge tomorrow of the First Christian church at Hazelwood. Mr. Thornton brings an enviable reputation as a church worker. He has held pastorates at Paola, Kas., Lathrop, Carrollton and Kansas City, Mo., and Mayfield, Ky. He was pastor of the church at the latter place for the last three years. Mr. Thornton was born in Logan county, Ohio, was educated in a private school at Waverly, Mo., in the Missouri state university and the Bible department of Kentucky university. He married a daughter of the Rev. J. D. Fitzgerald, a Presbyterian minister of Baltimore. He will preach at both services in the First church tomorrow.

Dr. Chapman's evening discourse will have special reference to the work of the recent conference at Winona lake. A special program of music has been prepared for both services in which the First church's famous soloists will have prominent parts.

As already announced in The Gazette, Dr. Young will resume the park services tomorrow night. Bartley's Military band will lend interest to the opening. Yaschel Schiller, B. F. Butts and chorus will render "Jerusalem," "America," "Holy City," and other appropriate selections.

The services will be conducted by Bishop Whitehead, assisted by Dr. Ward. The bishop will preach the sermon. The altar is a gift of John W. Garland and is a memorial to his father and nephew.

St. John's English Evangelical Lutheran church, Forbes and Jumonville streets, having been re-frescoed during the summer, will be reopened with appropriate services at 10:30 tomorrow morning. OLD MINISTER HERE FOR CONFERENCE

The Rev. C. F. Heitmeyer.

The Rev. C. F. Heitmeyer Once Preached in a Church That Cost $27 50.

The Rev. C. F. Heitmeyer, one of the oldest ministers in the Central German conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, is the first to arrive for the annual conference to convene next week in the First German Methodist Episcopal church, South Side. Bishop T. N. Fitzgerald of St. Louis will preside.

Mr. Heitmeyer is 74 years old and has been in the ministry since 1849. Though superannuated, he is fond of the active ministry and not infrequently preaches. He will preach next Sunday in the German Methodist Episcopal church at the corner of Union avenue and Ohio street, Allegheny. Mr. Heitmeyer is the guest of E. F. Erk, assistant circulation manager of The Gazette, on Troy Hill.

Mr. Heitmeyer was born in Hanover, Germany, and came to this country at an early age. He was licensed at Loughrey, Ind. His first charge was at Huntingburn, Ind. The pious German residents built a log church which cost $27 50. Mr. Heitmeyer was its first pastor, and it was the beginning of one of the most interesting ministries in the annals of the German conference.

Not many months ago this congregation had a golden jubilee in which its first pastor had a conspicuous part. There is a newer and larger church there now, but the memory of the $27 50 building is still green. Mr. Heitmeyer had a charge on the South Side for several years, and later in Allegheny. For many years he has been living on his farm at Lansing, Mich., but rarely fails to attend the annual conference.

The Rev. Dr. Daniel Matther, pastor of the First German Methodist Episcopal church, in which Mr. Heitmeyer preaches tomorrow, will celebrate the sixth anniversary of his pastorate.

CHILDREN AT THE EXPO.

More Than 4,000 Public School Pupils Visited the Big Show Yesterday.

More than 4,000 of Pittsburgh's public school children held high carnival at the New Exposition yesterday, and the great buildings were transformed into bowers of juvenile beauty. In the evening an extraordinarily large gathering was present to enjoy the superb Wagner programs arranged by Sousa and to view the exhibits.

Today, the first Saturday of the season of 1902, is to be the "People's Own," as far as music is concerned, for Sousa, expecting overflowing audiences, has arranged four programs that betoken the great bandmaster's happiest moods. The attraction managers especially will be prepared for the enormous throng. These are: "The Haunted Swing," puzzling and mystifying; the "Laughing Gallery," "The Dancing Marionettes;" "Mt. Pelee in Eruption;" "Darkness and Dawn," the ever popular "Cinematograph;" the merry-go-round and the toboggan slide. Sousa's program for this afternoon follows:

AUTO LICENSES.

Director Leslie Proposes Expert Examinations for All Operators of Automobiles.

Director Leslie is contemplating an ordinance requiring that drivers of automobiles shall be licensed. If the proposed ordinance is passed by councils it will mean that every owner and driver of an automobile in the city will be compelled to pass an examination before a license can be obtained.

A special board of examiners will be appointed to act with the public safety committee of councils. Examinations will be held by this special board, which will issue the license. The proposed ordinance will not be framed until councils have disposed of the director's ordinance now in councils regulating the speed of automobiles. The object in having all chauffeurs licensed is to prevent accidents by inexperienced or incompetent operators. The rule has been in force in New York for some time.

"There are not more than a dozen professional chauffeurs in Pittsburgh," said Director Leslie. "These men will have no trouble passing the examination, but there may be some automobile operators and owners who will have difficulty.

"While driving on the Beechwood boulevard the other night I came in contact with two machines. Just ahead of me was a very nervous team of horses. Both of the animals scared when the first auto passed them and when the second came up I thought ther would be a serious accident. The drivers of these machines were racing at a speed entirely too fast for the safety of others."

FOR THE KEENAN MEDALS.

Annual Rifle and Revolver Shoot to Be Held September 26.

The annual rifle and revolver contests for the Col. Thomas J. Keenan, Jr., medals will be held on Friday, September 26. The shoot will be held on the rifle and revolver ranges of the Fourteenth infantry at Salt Works station, on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. The medals are very handsome affairs and great interest is always taken in the contests for them. It is expected that nearly every officer in the three local organizations will enter in the revolver contest and that all the crack shots of both regiments will go after the medal offered to the best shot with the service rifle among the entered men.

The shoot for the revolver medal held last October was one of the most spirited in the history of both regiments. It was won by Lieut. T. J. Reniker, inspector of rifle practice of the Eighteenth infantry, who defeated Lieut. A. R. Cratty by a score of 78 to 75, the distance being 25, 50 and 75 yards, and the possible at the three ranges 90 points. The enlisted men's medal was won by Sergt. Blackhall of the Fourteenth infantry by an excellent score.

Killed by Freight Train.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 5.—(Special.)—Alexander Werfline was ground to death last night at Harbor Bridge, north of this city, under a Pennsylvania freight train. In jumping from the train, he fell. He was 26 years old and unmarried.

Society.

MRS. GEORGE H. WILSON will sail from Boston in a couple of weeks with her two daughters, Miss Katherine Wilson and Miss Margaret Wilson, for a long stay abroad. The fine musical talent of both Miss Wilson and her younger sister, which has been cultivated under the best influences in this country, will be further developed by hard study in Paris.

Miss Wilson, who has been heard frequently in Pittsburgh at receptions of the Art society when she has accompanied eminent soloists and also playing in conjunction with the Kneisel quartet of Boston, will study under Harold Bauer, who, though a young man, is without doubt one of the best interpreters and instructors of the pianoforte. Miss Margaret Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Wilson's second daughter, has been studying the violin in Boston for several years under the direction of Franz Kneisel, and while in Paris will pursue her study under Marteau, the famous young French violinist who played with the Pittsburgh orchestra a couple of seasons ago. Both Marteau and Harold Bauer have been heard in Pittsburgh, Harold Bauer playing in concert with the Pittsburgh orchestra last season. Miss Katherine Wilson is possessed of fine musical temperament, an already brilliant technique and is regarded as one of the most promising of the younger pianists in Pittsburgh. Her younger sister, Miss Margaret, is a conscientious, painstaking student and her violin studies have been pursued under the most favorable conditions.

Mrs. Wilson and her daughters, who have been spending the entire summer at the seashore in the neighborhood of Boston, Mass., will sail from that port on the Hanovarian line and complete a two years' stay in Paris. Their stay abroad may be lengthened even beyond that limit. Mr. George H. Wilson returned to Pittsburgh a few days ago after spending seven weeks with his family at the seashore. If he can leave his business long enough he will return to say another good-bye to his family. During their absence he will make his home at the Schenley.

Another Year Book Out.

The Women's Library club of Knoxville yesterday issued its year book for the coming season. The program committee, consisting of Mrs. George Seibel, Miss S. E. Croner and Miss Nellie Shaw, has prepared a very interesting series of programs for the semi-monthly meetings, continuing from October 7 until April 28. Among the subjects to be studied and discussed are "Russian Life and Literature," "American Art and Artists," "Mythology," "The Moors in Spain," "Japanese Life and Literature," "Progress of Education," "Some American Actors and Their Art," "Common Things About Us," "Musicians," and "Aerial Navigation."

The club has a membership of 35. Its officers are Mrs. A. N. Hunter, president; Miss Grace Oglesby, and Miss Ella Fisher, first and second vice presidents; Miss Nellie Du Val, secretary; Mrs. Charles Wetzel, treasurer. The following are the committees: Social, Mrs. Charles Wetzel, Mrs. R. J. Phillips, Mrs. M. M. Miller, Mrs. J. F. Grimes and Mrs. I. N. Boyd; music, Miss Helen Grimes, Miss Stella Brooks, Miss Nellie Snow and Miss Alice Albertson; press, Miss Ella Fisher and Miss Belle Dalzell.

Moran—Kelly.

Miss Ella Moran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Moran of Washington avenue, Braddock, and Edward P. Kelly of East Pittsburgh, were married yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, in St. Thomas' Roman Catholic church. The service, which was performed by the Rev. Father Joseph Burgoon, assistant pastor of the church, was witnessed by 200 friends from Braddock, East Pittsburgh, McKeesport and Wilkinsburg. The bride was attended by the groom's sister, Miss Agnes Kelly. James Moran, a brother of the bride, was best man. A wedding breakfast, served at the bride's home, followed the service, at which there were 50 guests. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly will reside at Washington avenue and Ninth street, Braddock, after returning from a wedding trip.

Wedding Invitations Issued.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 5.—(Special.)—Invitations were issued today for the marriage of C. B. Zahniser of this city to Miss Ruth Agnew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Agnew of Sewickley. The wedding will occur September 18. Mr. and Mrs. Zahniser will make their home here.

Mrs. James H. Tershing of Denver, who was formerly Miss Martha Reymer of Allegheny, is visiting Dr. and Mrs. Roland T. White of Western avenue.

NOTES OF SOCIETY.

Mrs. A. L. Braun of Bellevue left last Thursday on Clyde line steamer for Florida for the benefit of her health. She expects to return in October.

Attorney Willis McCook and daughters, Miss Florence and Miss Catherine McCook, arrived home yesterday at Swissvale, from a six weeks' trip through Great Britain, France, Germany and Switzerland. They were in London for the coronation.

The luncheon announced to be given yesterday by Mrs. Samuel Wilson of Peebles street, Sewickley, for Mrs. John Roberts, a bride of the summer, and sister of the Misses Rice of Sewickley, will not be given until some afternoon next week, not yet decided upon.

Mrs. George P. Rose entertained with a pretty little card party at her home in Thorn street, Sewickley, yesterday afternoon. It was a small and informal affair, about 20 guests being present. Six-hand euchre was played. The honor guest was Mrs. Willis of Newport, Ark., who is visiting relatives in the valley.

Miss Tillie Abel of Clark place and Miss Augusta Abel of Meyran avenue have returned after a two weeks' visit at Niagara Falls and Canada. Miss Kate Hopkins, sister of Dr. Hopkins of Marguretta street, who accompanied them on Sicily trip, remained in Montreal, visiting relatives and friends and to recuperate from her recent accident. She does not expect to return for several months.

Meeting of the Finance Committee.

The committee on finance of Pittsburgh councils held a short meeting yesterday afternoon. The ordinance for the transfer of $2,567 21 from the water appropriation to the appropriation for pipe laying, was recommended affirmatively. The offers of G. G. O'Brien and John Flinn for a number of pieces of property owned by the city, having been seized for nonpayment of taxes, were referred to a subcommittee.

Hair Falling?

Don't tell your friends of it. They would think it so strange. You see, they know Ayer's Hair Vigor checks falling of the hair, restores color to gray hair, and makes the hair grow. Then why don't you use it?

No Summer Bowel Troubles

Not for me! I'm safe from all of them and happy. The heat of summer causes organic matter everywhere to decay. All dead vegetable or animal matter rots if not kept on ice. All undigested food in the human body will ferment a hundred times as quickly in summer as in winter. Consequence—stomach, liver, bowels poisoned, thrown out of order—sour stomach, gases, colic, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera, appendicitis, and in some regions yellow fever and the plague. Little children suffer terribly everywhere. What does good sense tell you to do? You can't keep the human body on ice, and the drinking of ice-cold drinks does more harm than good because it stops digestion and chills the internal organs. The proper thing is to keep all impure and unnecessary matter out of the body every day, not give it a chance to sour and decay in the stomach and bowels, and poison the blood and the whole body. In this way you will stop all hot, feverish conditions, and keep your insides cool and healthy. To do it, use a medicine that is not offensive to the taste and not harsh and violent in its action. There is only one safe system-cleaner to take in the summer time, because it will not cause diarrhoea or griping, and that is

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Boston, Sept. 5.—The champions left Boston for New York tonight feeling that they had been up against the real thing on the diamond, for the locals certainly never played better ball this season than during the present series. Two games were on the card for this afternoon, because of the tie game of yesterday, and the teams broke even. The first game was an easy victory for the Pirates, Phillippe being a great puzzle to the local batsmen, while Willis, Boston's old stand-by, was a mark for the visitors. Every one of them got at least one hit, except Phelps, while Beaumont and Conroy led their club mates with three each.

In the second game vaudeville tactics were followed by the Pittsburghs after the first two innings, when Boston had piled up ten runs. Cushman was sent to the slab by Clarke, and the young man went into the air at the very start. Before the Bostons were retired he had given five free passes and was hit for four singles, resulting in six runs for the locals. He started out much the same way in the second inning, giving four bases on balls and allowing two hits, which netted the locals four more runs. Wagner got tired and laid down on the grass and finally went into the box himself.

Honus Can Pitch a Few.

There was a lot of fun for the next five innings, but it was not at the expense of the Dutchman's delivery. The Beaneaters managed to get four hits in the five innings, but five of their best men were struck out by Hans, including Tenney, Demontreville and Long. Klobedanz was brought down from the Lawrence farm to pitch for the locals, and he was in excellent form. After the champions had been retired in the eighth with a pretty double by Dement and Tenney, Hank O'Day called the game on account of darkness. The score was 12 to 1 in favor of Boston.

It looked like a run for Pittsburgh at the start of the first game. Beaumont fouled to Kittredge, Clarke went out from Dement to Tenney, Leach singled to left and Wagner was hit on the wrist by a pitched ball. Ritchey was unequal to the occasion and went out, Long to Tenney. Conroy got in a smashing three-base hit in the opening for Boston, but it came to naught.

In the second Burke went out, Greminger to Tenney. Conroy filed to Carney, and Phelps' grounder was handled perfectly by Greminger. In the third inning the Pirates began to find Willis. Philippe fouled to Kittredge; Beaumont hit a slow one to Long and was safe. Clarke singled to left. Leach drove one down the first base line to Tenney and was out. Wagner smashed the ball to left for two bases, scoring Beaumont and Clarke. Ritchey retired the side by flying out to Greminger.

Deacon Had a Wild Pitch.

Boston got two of their runs by a wild pitch by Philippe. Willis went out, Ritchey to Wagner. Lush singled to center and went to second on a passed ball. Tenney walked and Cooley advanced them a base each on his out. Philippe to Wagner. When Carney was up Philippe threw one wide of the plate, allowing Tenney to score, the latter making a great slide for home. Burke drew a pass in the fourth, but was thrown out at second. Conroy singled to left and reached on Phelps' out. Willis to Tenney. Philippe drew a base. Beaumont singled to left, scoring Conroy and reached second on Cooley's fumble. Clarke retired the side by fouling to Kittredge.

Dement, Long and Kittredge each hit to Leach and were thrown out at first in their half of the fourth. There was nothing doing for the Pirates or for the locals in the fifth. In the sixth Burke singled to left and scored on Conroy's long drive to right for three bases. Phelps fouled out to Kittredge and on Phillippe's fly to Cooley, Conroy scored the Pirates' second run for that inning. Beaumont and Clarke both singled, but were left on base through Leach's out to Lush. Boston got their third run in their half of the sixth, Cooley walked, went to second on Philippe's fumble of Carney's bunt, third on Greminger's force out of Carney and scored on Dement's fly to Clarke. Pittsburgh added another in the eighth when Phillippe singled to left, went to second on Beaumont's attempt to sacrifice and scored on Leach's safe hit to right. Nothing doing in the ninth.

Cushman Was Very Liberal.

In the second game the first three Pittsburgh men went out in order. Then Cushman began to provide free transport to the Boston batsmen, and, aided by hits, six runs came in. Clarke saw that he was all off with the game, but allowed Cushman to go in in the second inning in hope that he would settle down. It was no use, and after conference between Wagner and Burke, the genial Hans essayed to do a stunt at twirling.

He tied himself up in all sorts of knots, threw his legs around his head, then came for the plate as best he knew, and it was good at that. He was wise enough to toss up a slow one now and then, and in their desperate efforts to hit the center field fence Tenney, Greminger and Long fanned once each, while Dement struck out twice. Only four hits were made off Wagner, by Dement in the third, by Moran in the fourth and sixth and by Lush in the seventh.

Pittsburgh got their single run when, with two men out, Beaumont singled to left and scored on Clarke's triple to right. The Pirates did not try very hard to do anything except to retire their side and end the game as quickly as possible after the second inning. The score:

BUNCHED THE HITS.

Brooklyn Took the Final Game from Chicago.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 5.—Chicago lost the final game of the season with Brooklyn today. The Brooklyns bunched their hits to advantage and used good judgment in base running. The fielding was excellent on both sides. Williams made the only error by throwing wildly after making a fine stop of Dahlen's drive. The score:

EXCITING END TO BALL GAME AT HOMESTEAD

Steel Workers Tied Score in Ninth, but Altoona Won in the Tenth.

SPECTATORS WERE WILD

They Raced Up and Down the Seats and Created All Sorts of Scenes When Risher's Team Tied the Score in Ninth Inning.

After one of the most exciting finishes ever seen at Steel Works park, Homestead, the Altoona team, champions of Central Pennsylvania, yesterday afternoon defeated the Homestead Library Athletic club representatives by a score of 8 to 6 after 10 hard-fought innings. When the steelworkers came to bat in the ninth inning the score stood 6 to 1 against them, without any hope of winning. Then a batting rally was started, and after the smoke had cleared away the Homesteaders were tied with the Mountain City boys, and it required an extra inning to decide the contest. In their half of the tenth Altoona went in and knocked out two runs, or enough to win the game. There were about 500 people present at the game and they howled themselves hoarse when the sturdy sons of Homestead tied the score, but the cheers of joy were changed to tears when the Altoonas managed to bag enough runs to win the game.

It was another hard luck game for Bowman, the man from West Virginia. In the very first inning it was apparent that the fates were against the young man, for the opposing batsmen managed to get three runs, when they should have been blanked. The contest was exciting in every manner. In addition to the hard work of the pitchers there was some sensational playing by the members of both teams. Martin, for Altoona, and Davis, their left fielder, made spectacular catches, and McCluskey came forward with a one-handed stop that would have been a credit to any of the league short fielders. The score:

She Was Small but Nervy and Through Her Five Men Came to Grief.

A big seven-shooter and a girl 12 years old proved persuasive arguments in making two men come around to little Mary Bitzer's way of thinking in the matter of a small amount of change the men alleged was due them out of a $10 bill.

Mary is the daughter of Postmaster Bitzer of Greentree Hill. Thursday afternoon two well-dressed men drove up to the postoffice and store and purchased 10 cents' worth of tobies. The little girl, who was done in the store, waited on the customers. The men tendered a $10 bill in payment. The change the men received they said was incorrect. Mary was certain she had counted out $9.90, and when they insisted she pulled out a revolver that lay behind the counter and told the men to "git!" and they drove off at a rapid pace.

Bitzer was informed of the occurrence, and thinking the strangers might attempt to work the same game on others telephoned along the road the men had taken. Shortly afterward the men entered the bar-room of George E. Beck, East street, near the Allegheny line. Here they attempted to work a similar game on the bartender. He, knowing their object, allowed them to commit themselves and then called the police, who arrested them. The men were given hearings before Magistrate Hunneshagen yesterday and were fined $10 each and costs. They gave their names as Michael McGuire and William McGee.

HELPED CATCH DAVIS.

Thomas Lane Killed at Swissvale Was One of Those Who Chased the Confederate President.

Thomas J. Lane, who was struck by a train while crossing the Pennsylvania railroad at Swissvale Thursday night, receiving injuries from which he died, had a part in the capture of Jefferson Davis, president of the confederacy. Lane was a member of the Seventh Pennsylvania cavalry during the latter part of the civil war, and that regiment co-operated with the Fourth Michigan cavalry, both belonging to Minty's brigade, in the capture of Davis.

Although a large reward was offered for Davis' capture, Lane never troubled himself about the money until many years after the close of the war. He then made an effort to get the money, and the late C. L. Mages and the Rev. S.F. Long, at that time pastor of the Lincoln Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, interested themselves in Lane's behalf and placed the matter before congress. Nothing has been done by the government.

Lane was a street car conductor on Fifth avenue for 20 years, and had a large circle of friends and acquaintances. A short time ago he secured employment with the Union Switch and Signal Company at Swissvale.

The Fourth Michigan men were largely rewarded for the capture of Davis.

STOCK BROKERS SUSPEND.

Clients of A. J. Cummings & Co. Are Said to Be Big Losers.

A. J. Cummings & Co., stock brokers having offices in the Peoples Savings Bank building, Fourth avenue, have suspended business. The offices were open yesterday, but no business was done. The suspension is alleged to have been caused by the departure for parts unknown of a member of the firm with $7,500 of the company's money.

The firm has offices in many of the larger towns surrounding Pittsburgh, and these are also reported to have closed. Notice of the suspension was made known to those dealing with the company in a circular letter sent out on Thursday. It is stated that the man who disappeared secured the money which he took with him from the office at Cumberland, Md., and that Mr. Cummings is now in Buffalo hoping to overtake him, as it is thought he has gone to that city. A dispatch from Sharon yesterday stated that the clients of the company in that city are losers about $10,000. At Greenville the customers will lose about $8,500.

MOTHER DID NOT GO.

Refused a Fiddler's Invitation to Eloping Daughter's Wedding.

WELLSVILLE, O., Sept. 5.—(Special.)—Miss Frances Aldridge, step-daughter of W. H. Jones, connected with the American Sheet Steel plant, eloped last night and was married in Chester, W. Va., to George Sinclair, an employe of the Edwin Knowles pottery at Chester. She is 18 years old and has over $15,000, which came into her possession upon the suicide of a New York gambler.

Mrs. Jones did not know of the daughter's marriage till early last evening, when she received a telephone message to come to Chester and witness the ceremony. Her only comment today was: "I didn't go, because I am not accepting fiddlers' invitations."

PRINCE ALERT WAS TOO FAST FOR ANACONDA

Won the First and Third Heats in the Special Race at Hartford.

ONE FINISH WAS EXCITING

In the Third Heat a New Driver Was Placed Behind Prince Alert—The Horses Went Almost Nose and Nose to the Wire.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARTFORD, CONN., Sept. 5.—The grand circuit races at Charter Oak park ended today, the postponed events of Thursday being embodied in the day's program, making six races. The feature of the day was the special race between Prince Alert and Anaconda for a purse of $5,000, winner to take all. It was contested in three heats. Prince Alert winning the first and third heats and the money.

In the first heat Anaconda was headed all the way around the ring, Dickerson making a bid for the heat in the last quarter, but without avail. The heat was a big surprise to the betting fraternity. The horses got away after scoring twice in the second heat, and when half way up the stretch Dickerson began driving with Anaconda and he quickly passed Prince Alert, winning by over a length. This performance won rounds of applause from all sides.

The Drivers Were Changed.

Upon request of Mr. Demarest, Curry was placed behind Prince Alert in the third heat. Soon after the horses got away Anaconda went to the front and maintained this position all the way around until the stretch was reached, when Prince Alert let out a kink and came up even. Then for a time the horses traveled as if being driven by a pair. Inch by inch Prince Alert gained on his plucky rival and when the wire was reached Anaconda's nose was lapping Prince Alert's sulky. This race was one of the best of the week. Prince Alert was the favorite in the betting.

In the 2:16 pace, Dandy Chimes was the favorite and took the first two heats in easy fashion. The third heat proved one of the best events of the afternoon. Miss Williamont and Schley Pointer set out to do Chimes and they did it in great style, Schley Pointer finishing first and Dandy Chimes third. At the start of the fourth heat, Chimes went to pieces and fell to the rear, Schley Pointer leading clear to the wire. In the fifth heat Geers made a try for the heat on the stretch, but his horse was all out, Schley Pointer finishing first, Buckthorne second and Dandy Chimes third.

In the 2:14 pace, Bedworth, Jr., had a walk over, taking the race in three straight heats, actually running home in the final. This feat was repeated by Maj. Delmar in the 2:09 event. In this latter race the winner of each heat received $525, second $100 and third $75.

Prince Direct Had Picnic.

There were only three starters in the 2:22 trot, Walton Boy taking the race in three straight heats. Prince Direct had a picnic in the 2:13 pace winning all three heats with comparative ease. In the final he actually ran away from the field. Summaries:

Millvale Won First Game.

Millvale defeated Sharon yesterday in a loosely played game. The home team fielded poorly back of Williams, who pitched a masterly game. In no inning did he allow more than one hit except in the ninth. With better support Sharon would have had one lonely score to its credit. What Millvale lacked in fielding they made up in hitting when hits meant runs by bunching four hits in the third inning. Both teams play at Millvale today. Brucker and O'Neil will oppose each other on the club. The score:

Millvale	1	0	5	0	0	0	3	0	0	6—9

Madden Buys Three Good Ones.

CLARK EXTRADITION DELAYED.

If Papers Fail to Reach Canada Tuesday Pittsburgher Will Go Free.

TORONTO, ONT., Sept. 5.—(Special.)—For the third time the extradition case of George Clark, the Pittsburgh millionaire's son, came up today and was again postponed because the papers had not arrived from Washington. Just why these papers should not have been secured in three weeks is puzzling the officers here. The young man is wanted at Lynn, Mass., on a charge of issuing checks without a bank account.

The elder Clark and his wife and daughter are living here. The boy is practically a prisoner, never being permitted to leave his father's side. The police are angry over the $5,000 damage suit filed against the detective who arrested Clark.

The crown attorney says he will call the case and consent to its dismissal Tuesday if the papers are still absent.

FEUDISTS UNDER ARREST.

Seventeenth Ward Men, Who Fought on Sunday.

Edward and John Hughes of No. 4217 Ophelia street were arrested yesterday by Police Captain C. E. Ford on charges of disorderly conduct.

The men were participants in an encounter with Nickolas and John Deffler, which took place in a woods near Lincoln avenue and the boulevard on Sunday afternoon. The fight arose out of a political feud in the Seventeenth ward. The Deffiers were arrested Thursday night. The four men will have hearings this afternoon by Alderman Kerr.

THE HAVEMEYERS MAY FORM A BIG BEET COMBINE

Not at Once, Though, for Present Management Must Stay for Five Years.

DREAD FOREIGN RIVALRY

Pool Operating in Sloss-Sheffield Stock Becomes Active—Claims of Westinghouse Airbrake Company's New York Competitor.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 5.—The impression in sugar circles seems to be that the entrance of American Sugar Refining interests into the sugar beet industry means the ultimate formation of a large company that will embrace the properties in which an interest has been acquired.

The statement is made that Mr. Havemeyer and his friends have acquired a half interest in something like 14 plants, with a combined capacity of 9,000 tons of beets a day. This compares with the country's total consumption of 25,000 tons a day. From these figures it is evident that the American Sugar Refining Company has secured a strong foothold, so far as the production of beet sugar is concerned.

It is not likely that a combination of the Havemeyer beet sugar properties will be effected in the near future, as the majority of the plants were acquired with the understanding that there should be no change in the present management for a stated period, said to be five years.

Profits in the West.

In certain quarters it is believed that the American Refining Company is not joining the beet sugar interests solely to secure legislation favorable to the company. The refineries of the company are located on the Pacific and Atlantic coasts, as a result of which the combine's margin of profit in the sugar sold in the middle west is very narrow, as compared with the profits of the beet sugar companies located in that part of the country.

It was pointed out today that to assure a profit of ½ cent a pound the trust would be compelled to sell its sugar in Denver for 5.40 cents a pound. The high-class beet sugar factories located in that district could sell their sugar for 3.85 cents a pound and secure the same margin of profit. This calculation is made on existing quotations for raw sugar and does not take into account the profit derived by the beet sugar factories through the sale of their by-products from the beets converted into sugar.

It was suggested today that another reason for the invasion of the beet sugar field by Havemeyer interests is that they stand in fear of foreign competition in the matter of refined sugars. The combine depends upon Europe for its supplies of raw sugar, and should the concerns on the other side decide to refine their own sugar and export it in that form, the source of the combine's raw supplies would be cut into considerably.

High Money Rates Forecasted.

The known movements of money during the past seven days indicate that the banks have lost between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000 cash through sub-treasury and interior operations. As a result, tomorrow's bank statement is expected to show a further loss in surplus, as the activity of the stock market during the week would hardly allow a sufficient contraction in loans to offset the heavy loss in cash as shown by the preliminary figures.

However, the average system employed by the New York clearing house is so uncertain that tomorrow's returns, as was the case a week ago, may not be as bad as expected.

There is no getting round the fact that the position of the banks is weak for this time of the year. With an active stock market, the movement of funds to the interior for crop-moving purposes under way, and the small surplus reported, high rates for money for some time to come are looked for by many who keep in close touch with the financial situation.

Pool Interests in Sloss-Sheffield.

The pool operating in the stock of the Sloss-Sheffield Company was again active yesterday. In the early trading the stock sold two or three points above the closing price of the preceding day. Later in the day it reacted several points on realizing sales.

Consoderable publicity was given to the Sloss-Sheffield Company today by one of the news agencies. The agency, in a glowing statement, hinted that perhaps other interests are seeking to gain control, adding:

"It is said John W. Gates and his associates have recently secured three blast furnaces in the vicinity of Birmingham which were formerly owned by the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company, and he is also said to have been buying coal lands in that vicinity in small quantities from time to time. These facts were thought by some persons to lend color to the belief that possibly Mr. Gates has designs on the Sloss-Sheffield property. It can be stated on good authority, however, that there is no prospects of a change in the control of the Sloss-Sheffield Company in the immediate future. The recent rise has been due entirely to manipulation."

Westinghouse's Airbrake Rival.

An interest identified with the New York Airbrake Company today said: "Five years ago, when we entered the business, the Westinghouse Company supplied airbrakes to all the railroads of the country. We have taken 70 railroads away from them, including some of the most important systems in the country. We have Northern Pacific, Great Northern, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific.

"We are negotiating for the Atchison and believe we shall get it. We are negotiating for the business of other railroads all the time, and believe we shall get a number, though I cannot give any names at this time. We have purchased 275 acres of land at Watertown, N. Y., for an addition to our plant. This will double our capacity."

Rise of Cast Iron Pipe Stock.

One of the features of today's market was the advance of 1¾ points in the common and 4½ in the preferred stocks of the United States Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry Company. Wall street received word today that a pool composed of Cincinnati traders had been formed and that 25 for the common and 75 for the preferred is anticipated.

There are no pending developments in the affairs of the company to warrant a big advance. The net earnings of the company are large, a natural result, considering the general prosperity of the iron and steel industry. E. W. HARDEN.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—A correspondent at Rossland, B. C., writes that the Greenwood smelter will have a supply of coke and resume operations within a few days. During its suspension on account of the strike development has proceeded steadily in the Mother Lode mine, with the result that the 12,000 ton ore bins of the smelter can be kept filled. The present capacity of the plant is 500 tons daily.

On the Mayflower at Hartin, Ida., a 60-foot gold-bearing ledge has been uncovered that pans about $5 to the ton.

Four streaks of ore assaying from 50 to 70 per cent copper and 500 to 600 ounces of silver are reported in the tunnel of the Consolidated King near Jerome, Ariz.

A 6-foot quartz vein has been discovered in the Orloff claim at Silverton, Col. A crosscut has been run 20 feet without finding the opposite wall. The ore is a copper base carrying gold and silver, some of it assaying 30 per cent copper.

Charles W. Knox has secured an option on the Laura Lee at Cripple Creek and will engage to get certain tests to go into the development of the property. The bond is for $50,000.

A run of 16 days on ore from the Butterfly-Terrible at Cuprum, Col., netted in a gold brick worth $1,200. The ore was mainly from leasers' ground.

Two fine leads have been opened on the property of the Diamond Hill Mining company, Grand Encampment, Wyo. One of them is believed to be the same lead in which the New Rambler ore chute was discovered.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Copper was firmer and higher today under a somewhat more active demand from speculative sources and from consumers. Lake Superior was quoted at $11 75@11 85; standard, $11 30@11 50; electrolytic, $11 60@11 75; casting, $11 50@11 65. Copper sold in London an eighth higher, the market closing 10s higher, with spot at £52 7s 6d and futures at £53 15s. The like copper was more active and steadier in the local market, sales of five tons spot at $27 25 and 10 tons for September delivery at $27 10 being reported. The market closed steady at $27 20@27 25. The London market was 7s 6d higher for spot at £52 7s 6d and 7s 6d higher for futures, at £119 6s. Lead was steady and unchanged at London, where it closed at £10 18s 9d. Locally it was also steady and unchanged, closing at 4¼c. Spelter was quiet here at 5@5 10c and at London at £19 7s 6d. The English iron markets were quiet. Glasgow closing at 57s 7d and Middlesboro at 55s 11½d. The New York iron market was steady and unchanged at $20 00@25 00 for No. 1 foundry northern; $22 00@23 00 for No. 2 foundry northern; $22 00@22 00 for No. 1 foundry southern, and $22 00@22 00 for No. 1 foundry southern, soft. Warrants were nominal.

THE RAILROADS GET THE HONORS IN WALL STREET

St. Paul Came Into Early Prominence, Followed by Missouri Pacific.

WABASH WAS ADVANCED

Pennsylvania Also Gained During the Day's Transactions—Money Market Is Still an Uncertain Quantity. Closing Prices Were Firm.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 5.—At the opening today the stock market reflected little of yesterday's reactionary tendency, though the undertone was somewhat heavy in view of the unstable money market and lower prices from London. St. Paul came into early prominence, and, with Missouri Pacific, divided the day's honors, renewing rumors of a closer working agreement between those lines. On transactions exceeding 55,000 shares, St. Paul, while closing somewhat below the best, made a net gain of almost 3 points, while Missouri Pacific, which was much more active, gained 1½.

The other southwestern stocks, especially those in the Gould system, made some recovery on the growing belief that the government's crop reports would prove somewhat exaggerated. Norfolk & Western's strength was due to favorable forecasts regarding the annual report and Pennsylvania's gain, which was not long maintained, was attributed to the collapse of the tunnel franchise opposition.

Wabash Issues Advanced.

The comparative inactivity of Reading common, which was heavy throughout, resulted, it was believed, from the impression that the probable contest for control had been settled. The Chesapeake & Ohio pool was checked by reason of the road's poor showing for the latter part of August, but closed with a fractional gain.

Wabash issues advanced on news of a favorable judicial decision, and the debenture bonds, together with St. Paul common, were among the few issues that made new high records. The early session also brought gains to a number of industrials, including Virginia-Carolina Chemical, Cotton Oil, Peoples Gas and Sloss-Sheffield Steel, but with the exception of the chemical issues these improvements did not hold.

Manhattan was the feature of the tractions, though its gain on the day was only fractional. Irregularity followed another squeeze in call money, which worked nominally as high as 10 per cent, but actually not higher than 5½, and fell off as low as 3½. Much of the afternoon's business was in the industrials, notably Colorado Fuel, Pacific Mail, Peoples Gas, leather issues, malting issues and the independent steel and iron companies, all of which closed with net gains.

Closing Was Firm.

In the last hour there was general recovery to above the previous day's final prices, and the closing was in the main firm. The sub-treasury's debit balance at the clearing house of over $1,000,000 was chiefly due to heavy payments for the navy and $250,000 for account of Klondyke gold. There was also a transfer of $200,000 for local banks to New Orleans.

Tomorrow's bank statement will, it is believed, show a further loss of surplus reserves, but is not expected to reflect in full the $6,000,000 loss to the sub-treasury and the interior by local institutions. London was again prominent in today's operations, though selling on balance.

Railroad bonds showed a good tone throughout the day, but the market was less active. Total sales, par value, $3,220,000.

United States old 4s coupon advanced ⅝ and the new 4s registered declined ½ per cent on the last call.

Talked About in Wall Street

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The Herald this (Saturday) morning says: Notwithstanding conflicting stories that the dividend rate on St. Paul would be increased at the directors' meeting, to be held next week, the opinion prevailed that the operations in this leader of the market was gotten up for sentimental effect.

The early quotations from London indicated activity in that city, and the movement began there was continued with equal persistence here. The old report that a very profitable traffic alliance between the St. Paul and the Missouri Pacific was being arranged, also was circulated in explanation of the advance. The question of an increased dividend rate on the St. Paul is a matter which affects the entire market, as a result of the prominent position the property holds. It is likely the directors will take into consideration the plans for extending to the Pacific coast when the dividend question is before them.

Speculation in Reading shares dropped very substantially from the high levels of the early days of the week. The tone was inclined to weakness, but support was extended, and lessened the force of the liquidation. It was currently stated that among the deliveries which certain brokerage houses received were certificates bearing the names of some very prominent railroad men. The theory seems to be thoroughly exploded that important banking houses were bidding for control, and the disposition of the street inclines to the belief that the control of the property is now vested in the hands of the Pennsylvania, Vanderbilts and J. P. Morgan & Co. and that these three interests are working in entire harmony.

Activity in the Gould group extended to Missouri Pacific, Wabash and Manhattan. The Wabash debenture B's rose on heavy transactions a full point to 80, a high record price. The common and preferred also were strong. The activity was explained by the legal victory won in Pittsburgh in the litigation attending the efforts of the company to secure an entrance in that city for the Wheeling & Lake Erie, now controlled by the Wabash. Missouri Pacific advanced to 120, a high record price in the recent movement on the story of a traffic alliance with the St. Paul. The advance was accomplished in face of an unfavorable report of earnings.

Chesapeake & Ohio reflected the news from the bituminous region, that the coal strike on the coal properties along the lines had been declared off. It became quiet active in the early dealings, but the unfavorable report of earnings for August dampened speculative ardor. Notwithstanding this news, the early strength was maintained. The earnings show a decrease since July of $630,485. Norfolk & Western gained on the strike news.

TWENTY-FIVE ACRES SETTLE.

Scranton Property Again Damaged by Cave-In Over Mines.

SCRANTON, PA., Sept. 5.—Another settling of the surface of the Tripp park section of the city occurred today. Four residences were slightly damaged. About 25 acres went down from one to five feet.

The Lackawanna railroad tracks settled five feet in the center of a 50-yard disturbance. All trains had to be run around the Keyser Valley branch. The settling results from the caving in of abandoned mine workings in the old Tripp slope.

HEALTHY TONE MAINTAINED IN TRADE VOLUME

Distribution of Merchandise Is Heavy, With Firm Prices.

BETTER COKE DELIVERIES

Pressure Is Lessened in the Iron and Steel Industry With Home Consumption Calling for Large Imports.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 5.—R. G. Dun & Co's Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

Steady progress is reported in trade and industry. Distribution of merchandise is heavy and a healthy tone is evident. Prices are well maintained by liberal consumption which more than neutralizes the effect of enlarged facilities for production. Domestic conditions continue much better than those existing abroad and home trade receives more attention than foreign commerce. Farm products have appreciated in value owing to less favorable weather and producers will be fully compensated for any decrease in quantity by the higher quotations. Earnings of railways during August were 3.6 per cent larger than a year ago and 18.9 per cent in excess of 1900.

Better deliveries of coke and liberal receipts of foreign material have lessened the pressure in the iron and steel industries, and the situation is a little less congested, while quotations in a few lines have weakened. Domestic demands are not decreasing, much new business having been placed and home consumption will continue to call for imports on a large scale.

Each week brings out new records of coke output, the upper and lower Connellsville regions together having surpassed 300,000 tons and the holidays gave the railways an opportunity to relieve the congestion. Unless rapid progress is made before the close of lake navigation, less than two months hence, the situation will become serious. New plants are being added to the productive capacity as rapidly as possible, but in railway equipment (especially steel rails) orders are already placed for much of next year's output.

Quotations of footwear are fully maintained at the recent advance. It is noteworthy that buying has been heaviest in the finer grades, and sample lines of spring styles are also most sought in the good qualities. A good feature is the urgency for quick shipment, indicating that stocks are low. Leather sells freely at the recent advance in quotations, but hides appear to have risen above the views of tanners, resulting in a quiet market. Advancing raw material aroused much anxiety among purchasers of cotton goods and there were numerous inquiries for forward contracts, but the volume of business was not materially increased.

Agricultural conditions are less satisfactory, and if the official estimate as to cotton is not exaggerated the yield will not be large enough to sustain consumption at the present rate.

Wheat is coming forward freely, though receipts do not equal the abnormally heavy movement a year ago. Corn developed strength because of fears that injury would be done by frost, and the movement is very slow compared with last year's figures.

BANK CLEARINGS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—The following table, compiled by Bradstreet, shows the bank clearings at the principal cities for the week ended September 4th, with the percentage of increase and decrease as compared with the corresponding week last year:

Local Stocks Were Again Quite Active, but Prices Were Irregular

THE BULL MOVE IN RAIL COAL IS CONTINUED

Common Stock Was Marked Up to $32 on Very Heavy Buying Orders.

WINDOW GLASS WEAKER

Crucible Steel Was Quite Active and Higher—U. S. Steels Were Dull. Electrics Very Quiet—Union National Bank Sold for $1,053.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was again very active, but not quite so much so as that of the preceding day. Nor were the sales so widely distributed, or the prices so generally strong. Instead of 37 securities being dealt in, as was the case Thursday, only 26 found buyers yesterday. Of that number 10 were unchanged at the close, six declined from ⅛ to $10 a share and the remainder advanced from ⅛ to $127 75 a share. The latter figure, however, does not really represent the range of advances, as it was made on an inactive stock—Union National Bank, which sold 18 shares at $1,053 a share. The last previous sale on the stock exchange of this stock was March 10, when a small lot sold at $925 25 a share. Recent bids have been made at $1,000 a share, with offers at $1,150. The price paid yesterday was a new high record, though the stock did once sell at auction at $1,050 a share.

The feature of the general market continued to be in Pittsburgh Coal common, the bulls on the stock easily advancing the price ¾ to 32, which is the highest in a year. After the last sale 32¼ was bid for more, with no offers under 32¾. The stock opened at 31⅝, but shortly thereafter broke to 30¼, which was the low point of the day. All told, 4,500 shares changed hands. The preferred stock was also very strong and advanced from 91⅝ to 92, a gain of ⅞ for the day, on sales of not quite 1,100 shares. Buying of the common stock yesterday was by the principal seller of the day before. River Coal common developed a good deal of activity and firmness, and after opening at 13 closed at 12¾ on sales of 1,500 shares. The preferred was quiet and ⅛ lower at 41. The Steel stocks, which were so active Thursday, were much quieter yesterday, United States Steels really being almost ignored, though the prices quoted for them were without material changes. Crucible common sold over 2,100 shares and closed strong and 1¼ higher at 23, which was the highest price in some months. The preferred was much less active but quite firm at 87¼ @87⅝. American Window Glass common sold 1,800 shares, being quite active, but the price after opening at 62 declined to 61½ and finally finished at 61¾, the loss for the day being ¼. The preferred was dull and unchanged at 90½. The weakness in the common is attributed to fears lest the efforts to harmonize the trade will fail. United States Glass common sold less than 100 shares at 33, a decline of $2 50 from the last previous sale. The Electric stocks were very dull, the only sales being 220 of the seconds, which closed with a loss of ¼ at 112¾. Switch common did not sell but offered at 96. Westinghouse Airbrake was not mentioned during the day. Brewing common was somewhat firmer and fractionally higher at 30⅝. Fire Proofing preferred was unchanged, while the first sales of the common in a week or more occurred at 30½, an advance of ⅝. In the banking group a small lot of Pennsylvania Trust sold at $255, an advance of $5, and a new high record. The close, however, was unchanged at $250 with $251 bid. Dollar Savings Fund and Trust advanced $5 to $270, its previous high record, while Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust gained $1 at $235. Colonial Trust Company opened at 485, but declined at the close to 480, a loss of $10 for the day. The trading amounted to 21 shares. Bonds were dull but firm.

Sproul & Co. were the principal buyers of Pittsburgh Coal common. Robinson Bros. were among the largest sellers.

Secretary Shaw has returned to Washington. He says there is no reason for tight money, and that is the general opinion.

Just before noon 31¾ was bid for a block of 500 Pittsburgh Coal common. The stock was then selling regular lots at 31⅝.

Jakey Field, a prominent Wall street broker, is said to be at least $200,000 better off by the recent rise in Southern Pacific.

Doty & Sutton, Wettengel and Hill & Co. were the principal sellers of River Coal common. Master was the largest buyer.

Whitney & Stephenson were the largest sellers of Crucible Steel common. Preston, Somerville & Co. were the principal buyers.

Mr. E. A. Kitzmiller of P. Duff & Sons has been elected a member of the board of directors of the Cosmopolitan National bank, succeeding Mr. Alexander Speer, deceased.

Mr. J. J. Stoneback is the buyer of Union National bank and Miller the seller. The price was a new high record for the exchange and $3 above the figure paid at an auction last spring.

President McKinley was shot Friday afternoon, September 6, 1901. Saturday, September 7, the Wall street stock market was well supported and the shock of the catastrope was well sustained.

Application will be made to-day in the New York courts to dissolve the Fish syndicate, the American Steel Foundries Company, which was organized a short time ago with an authorized capital stock of $40,000,000, of which $20,000,000 will be 5 per cent cumulative preferred and $20,000,000 common. There will be issued for the purpose of taking over and for all additional cash working capital $15,300,000 preferred and $15,600,000 common.

The Interborough Rapid Transit system for July were made public last night. They show an increase in gross receipts of $32,839, while the operating expenses for the same month decreased $2,000. There was a total increase in net receipts of $82,597. The officials of the company feel gratified with the showing and point out that the decrease in expenses was made from the current prices of coal.

The Manhattan Elevated Railway statement filed at Albany shows that 216,250,945 passengers were carried by the elevated roads in the year ending June 30, 1902, or 25,213,604 more than in the preceding year. The total earnings of the company were larger by $1,249,023 than in the preceding year and the surplus at $1,133,456 greater by $737,120. Large as these figures are, it is expected that they will be exceeded in every way when the motive power is changed.

Wall Street Brokers' "Tips."

I think Pennsylvania is a purchase on all declines.

I think there is more money in the Gould stocks now.

It looks as if the Keene pool were getting to work in Leather.

Norfolk & Western is being bought on expectation of an increase in dividend in October. I think Chesapeake & Ohio is worth as much as Norfolk.

Buy Chesapeake & Ohio and take on some of the other leaders, especially on any further recession. Tractions are a buy for keeps. Brooklyn Rapid Transit's net increase of $82,000 for the month will help the stock. The steels are really good things to tie up to. Keep your hands off the short side of Copper. Atchison will not declare much and will Denver preferred. Gas stocks and Pacifics may be taken on all dips of half to one per cent from these prices.—Joseph's.

Chesapeake & Ohio was bid up on the rise in Northern Pacific. They were talking 60 for Chesapeake & Ohio on this move.

Earnings and Reports.

It is said the Baltimore & Ohio will show a net increase in earnings of over $2,500,000.

Minneapolis & St. Paul earnings the fourth week of August decreased $5,000; the month decreased $4,045; from July 1 increased $6,-768.

Iowa Central earnings the fourth week of August decreased $15,455; the month decreased $10,497, and from July 1 they increased $10,-616.

Louisville & Nashville earnings the fourth week of August increased $54,680; the month increased $282,070; from July 1 they increased $600,824.

Burlaps unchanged in price, but demand improving.

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Butter Supply Is Short and Receipts Light—Poultry Coming in Slowly.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

The grain market is very quiet, due chiefly to the light receipts. Considerable hay is moving, most of it finding a local market. Reports indicate that the shipments from grain producing sections are larger than the receipts, but oats and straw, corrected by the superintendent of the Pittsburgh grain exchange:

Groceries.

Indications point to a large crop of fruit in California, which is the main source of supply for the dried fruits found in the Pittsburgh market. Peaches, prunes and apricots are more than an average crop and are reported to be of good quality. California cherries are already in the market at about the same prices that prevailed last year. The first shipments of apricots are not due, but peaches will not arrive before November 1. Prices will be no higher, dealers say, than last year and if the weather continues favorable to the west may be a little lower on the later fruits.

Fruits and Produce.

In fruits and produce there is a decided easing up in the market. Receipts yesterday were heavy and the goods arrived in good condition. This resulted in a fall in the price of a number of commodities, the most noticeable drop being in apples and pears. Each dropped 50 cents a barrel. The demand for all kinds of fruit is stiff and the daily receipts are cleaned up at prices quoted.

Butter, Eggs and Cheese.

The market for cheese and eggs is firm, with prices as quoted. Butter shows, which dealers attribute chiefly to the low prices which prevail. During the corn season it is usual for butter to advance, but this year the price has kept down. Last year at this time first grades sold readily at 25 cents, while they are now selling at 21 and 22 cents. This is encouraging country dealers who have storage room to hold their product in anticipation of the advance which is almost sure to come soon.

Eggs—Fresh, at mark, 18¾@19c per doz; candled, 20@20½c; selects, 20½@21c.

Poultry.

The supply of poultry is just fair and receipts are light. Prices, however, remain the same as have prevailed and dealers look for no radical change. Since navigation has been suspended on the rivers most of the shipments have been made by express, which makes a very decided difference in th shipper's profit. By boat the rate is only 20 cents a coop, but $1 00 to $1 75 a coop is charged where the poultry is shipped by express.

Live—Hens, per lb, 13½@14c; broilers, 14@15c; roosters, 9c; turkeys, 12c; geese, 8@9c; ducks, old, 12c; ducks, spring, 13c to 14c.

Wheat, Corn and Oats Closed Higher

FROST REPORTS AGAIN EXCITED GRAIN MARKET

Conservative Bears Scoffed, but a Good Gain All Around Resulted.

STRONG AT THE FINISH

Wheat, Corn and Oats Closed Higher and Provisions Showed an Advance in the Chicago Pits—Poor Grading of Receipts.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Grain speculators became excited today over the possibility of frosts in the unripe grains tomorrow in spite of the fact that the weather map indications were very favorable. While conservative traders scoffed at the inconsistency with which the markets rallied today, whereas yesterday they slumped when frost was on the ground, the result of the day's trading was a good gain all around. The probable reason for this was that the bulls did have a very good plank to their platform—that of chronic poor grading of receipts at this point. December wheat closed ⅞@⅞c up, December corn 1⅛@1⅛c higher and December oats ⅝c up. Provisions closed generally 10c advanced.

There was a brisk demand early in the wheat pit, largely from the outside. Commission houses bought liberally and there was good support under December options. Much of the talk on the bull side was of the fear of frosts in the northwest. This was supposed to be the principal cause of the upturn, but steady cables, lighter receipts and bad grading helped materially. The sentiment generally was bullish and there was no selling pressure present.

Wheat Prices Fluctuated.

After the early bulge the market was inclined to dullness and prices fluctuated very narrowly. September sold from 72c to 72⅜c and closed ⅝c higher at 72½@72¾c. December started ⅛c to ¼c up at 68⅞@68¾c and sold to 69c, closing strong, ⅞@1c higher at 68⅝@68¾c.

Local receipts were 158 cars, one of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth received 400 cars, making a total for the three points of 558 cars, against 617 last week and 1,030 last year. Primary receipts were 1,082,000 bushels, compared with 1,426,000 bushels last year. Seaboard clearances in wheat and flour equaled 500,000 bushels. Argentine shipments duplicated last week's at 72,000 bushels, compared to 144,000 bushels a year ago.

Corn had a large trade early and the market advanced strongly on general demand, induced by the weather scare. Shorts wanted stuff, the outside was on the bull side of the market and for a time business was brisk. Some reports had it, however, that there was not much corn to be hurt by frosts, and after the first quick upturn the demand fell off, locals offered freely and prices dipped back somewhat.

Oats Closed Firm.

Cables were steady and the weather map was favorable for today. September had a fair advance, but not much of a trade. Late business was poor at a fair advance from yesterday. September sold at 59⅜c and closed a trifle firm at ⅛c advance at 59c. December sold from 42⅝c to

FINE RESIDENCE PROPERTY NEAR SEWICKLEY SOLD

President Loree of the B. & O. Railroad Sells Large Plot for $20,000.

TWO SALES BRING $18,250

Farm Near Elizabeth Brings $30,000. Crafton Residence Changes Hands. Viewers Inspect Fischer Foundry and Machine Co. Property.

L. F. Loree, president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, has disposed of his residence property in Sewickley for a price approximating $20,000. The deal was made through George Bros., who decline to name the buyer, further than to say he is a prominent young business man who bought the property for a home. This is one of the finest residence sites along the Ft. Wayne. It is thickly set with large trees and shrubbery. The plot contains 1.6 acres and has a frontage of 125 feet on the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago railroad, from which it extends back over 600 feet to Linden avenue. It is situated on the terrace overlooking Quaker Valley station and adjoins the properties of Frank Semple and Charles Atwood. The residence on the lot is a 12-room frame house, which will be remodeled by the purchaser before he occupies it.

Mr. Loree bought the property as a home for himself when he was fourth vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, but never occupied it, as he was soon afterward made president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, which necessitated his removal to Baltimore.

Two Houses Bring $18,250.

Through the agency of D. R. Faulkner & Co. William E. Slaugenhoupt has sold to Joseph A. and Andrew Fleckenstein two residence properties for $18,250. One of them is a lot facing 24 feet in Alder street, near Spahr street, Twentieth ward, and having a depth of 122.5 feet. The other consists of a lot 120x160 feet on the west side of Evans avenue, near Twelfth street, Seventh ward, McKeesport. Both properties are improved.

J. R. Wylie of Wilkinsburg has sold for the Wylie estate a farm of 20 acres near Elizabeth for $20,000. The land is situated on the east side of the Monongahela river, about 80 rods back from the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad. It was purchased by a Pittsburgh business man, who will make some marked changes at once.

A deal in Crafton residence property amounting to $11,000 was closed yesterday, the transaction having been handled by Andrew Johnston. Through him A. C. Wettergill, the broker, bought from the Stutz estate a plot 120x135 feet in Ridge avenue, near Bradford avenue. The lot is improved with a modern brick residence which the purchaser is already occupying as a home.

An Increase of 700 Per cent.

The deeds were registered yesterday in the purchase by Kaskel Solomon of the Charles Donnelly property, in Fifth avenue, near Grant street, for $160,000. The sale was noted several months ago. The lot is irregular in shape, having a frontage of 40 feet on the northeast side of Fifth avenue, and depth of 72 feet with a width of 20 feet in the rear. It adjoins the other holdings of Mr. Solomon, which he purchased last year.

Along with the deed to Mr. Solomon there was registered another deed recording the transfer of the property from John Dawson, executor of William McKee, to Charles Donnelly and Gilbert T. Rafferty. The original purchase by these men was made in 1882, and the price was $25,400. This shows a gain of nearly 700 per cent in the value of the property in the last 20 years.

Architect Ellsworth Dean is taking bids on the eight story brick and stone fireproof building of the Fairmont Trust Company at Fairmont, W. Va. The building will cost in the neighborhood of $60,000. The same architect will be ready for bids next week on the 12-roomed school house to be erected at Donora. This will be one of the model school buildings in the Pittsburgh district, having a mechanical system of hot air heating. The cost is estimated at $50,000.

Will Decide on P., V. & C. R. R. Claims.

The board of viewers appointed to fix a value upon the property of the Fischer Foundry and Machine Company, at the corner of Twenty-first and Mary streets, South Side, met yesterday, but did not announce their decision. The property in question is a lot, 65x60 feet, which was formerly occupied by the works of the Fisher Company. It was condemned some time ago by the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston Railroad Company, which has already taken possession of the premises.

COUNTRY CONFEREES GET INTO A DEADLOCK

Republicans from the 23rd District Come to Pittsburgh to Try and Name a Candidate.

The first congressman from the Twenty-third district, as at present constituted, may be chosen in Pittsburgh today. The district was reformed by the apportionment of 1901, and now consists of Somerset, Fayette and Greene counties. They were formerly parts of two different districts. The Republican conference is in session here, having begun yesterday.

The candidates are A. F. Cooper of Uniontown, Fayette county's choice; D. S. Walton of Waynesburg, who is being urged by the Greene county men, and J. A. Berkey of Somerset. Fourteen fruitless ballots were taken in the conference yesterday afternoon, the conferees of each candidate standing firmly by him, each vote being Berkey, 3; Cooper, 3; Walton, 8.

The conferees and candidates and their friends met in the Monongahela house at noon yesterday and organized by electing Judge A. F. Dickey of Somerset, chairman; Maj. T. S. Crago of Greene and J. Q. Van Swearingen of Fayette, secretaries. Six ballots were taken before lunch and eight more afterward. At 4 o'clock the conference adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

From present indications the deadlock will not be a long one, as all the conferees express a disposition to settle the matter in as short time as possible. No candidate is a favorite in the betting, and each man expresses himself as confident that he will win in the end.

Mr. Cooper's representatives at the conference are Frank M. Fuller and J. Q. Van Swearingen, Uniontown; John R. Byrne, Scottdale; Mr. Walton's are Allen P. Dickey and Maj. T. S. Crago, Waynesburg; James M. Farrell, New Freeport, and Mr. Berkey's are Judge A. F. Dickey, Isaiah Good and S. A. Kendall, all of Somerset. Messrs. Van Swearingen, Crago and Kendall made the nominating speeches for their respective candidates.

SHIP TO EXHIBIT GOODS.

American Manufactures to Take a Vessel Load of Products to the Orient.

SEATTLE, WASH., Sept. 5.—A large sea-going vessel, the Oregon, is being fitted up to take a party of American manufacturers, with exhibits, on a six months' cruise, commencing November 15, to Russia, China, Japan, the Philippines, the Straits settlements, India, Mauritius, South Africa, Australia and the Hawaiian Islands. This, it is said, will be the forerunner of greater expansion to America's commerce, giving an opportunity for buyers and sellers to become acquainted and discuss the method of packing goods for market.

The exposition is under the auspices of the chambers of commerce, boards of trade, manufacturers' associations and the consulates of the points visited.

CHANGES MADE IN M. P. CIRCUIT BY CONFERENCE

Numerous Vacancies Will Be Created for Which There Are Applicants.

PROPOSITION FOR UNION

Rev. L. Kiester of Mt. Pleasant Says the United Brethren Church Favors Denominational Consolidation—Assignment of Ministers.

Yesterday's sessions of the Methodist Protestant conference in the Knoxville church were by far the most interesting of the week. The boundaries committee report, made in the afternoon, was probably the most important business.

This committee decided that changes were needed in the circuits and recommended that Morrisville be detached from Waynesburg, and that Waynesburg be made a station. Rogersville and Morrisville are to be united under the title of the Rogersville and Morrisville charge. Fairview, Long Run Valley chapel and Claybrick are to be united under the name of the Fairview charge. Hopwood is to be detached from Fairview circuit and made a station. Fairchance, Oliphants and Brownfield are to be united and named the Fairchance charge. Fox chapel is to be detached from Hoboken and united to Springdale under the dual name of Springdale and Fox Chapel charge. Hoboken is to be made a station. The committee's report was adopted.

This system will create numerous vacancies for which there are plenty of applicants. It was stated yesterday that almost a dozen ministers from other parts of the country are desirous of being admitted to the Pittsburgh conference. It is likely that as many will be admitted as there are vacancies to supply. The board of extension recommended that $100 be donated to the Rogersville and Morrisville charge in lieu of the detachment of Waynesburg.

There were no invitations for the next meeting, and it was decided to leave the appointment to the district committee. During the morning session memorial services were held for the Rev. J. L. Simpson, who died at the Soldiers' Home in Erie, and the Rev. J. D. Corbin who died in Waynesburg.

Greeting from President Lewis.

The committee on colleges and theological seminaries occupied the morning session. The report was read by Dr. S. C. Swift and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. J. C. Berrien. He read a greeting from the newly elected president of Adrian college, the Rev. T. H. Lewis. Dr. Berrien commended the people of Pittsburgh for the support of the college in its recent effort to secure $5,000. The college will open as usual this year. There is yet a debt of $1,000 against it.

The Rev. L. Kiester, a United Brethren minister of Mt. Pleasant, addressed the morning session, in the course of which he said that his church is most willing to form a union with the other churches. The committee on union is expected to report today.

One of the interesting features of the afternoon session was the meeting of the Ministerial Aid society. Capt. W. P. Herbert, the treasurer, reported that there was a surplus of $6,000 to be distributed this year to the needy. The fund has grown amazingly during Capt. Herbert's years of management. He took hold of it in 1888, when there was but $26,000. He has increased that amount, by prudent investment, to $125,000.

Tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock there is to be a big rally of the Methodist Protestant Endeavorers on the large lawn adjoining the residence of J. F. Grimes. There will be 2,000 in attendance. The following is the list of churches to which the ministers attending the conference have been assigned for the Sunday services:

Mt. Washington Methodist Episcopal, 10:30, the Rev. E. A. Barnes of the Second Methodist Protestant church; Trinity Methodist Protestant church, Allegheny, the Rev. George H. Simon of Muncie, Ind.; Knoxville Presbyterian, the Rev. Dr. David Jones at 10:30 and the Rev. E. A. Fletcher of New Brighton, at 7:30; Castle Shannon Methodist Protestant, the Rev. C. F. Swift of Beaver Falls; First Methodist Protestant, Allegheny, the Rev. J. H. Lucas, pastor, at 10:30 and the Rev. G. D. Sheppard at 7:30; Sheridan Methodist Protestant, the Rev. John Gregory of Adrian, at 10:30 and the Rev. E. J. Hadley of Greene county at 7:30; Mt. Washington Methodist Protestant, the Rev. J. C. Carpenter, at 10:30; First Methodist Protestant, Pittsburgh, the Rev. L. E. Davis of Sharpsburg, at 10:30; Washington avenue Methodist Episcopal, the Rev. W. A. Bush at 10:30 and the Rev. J. B. Saddler at 7:30; Fourth Methodist Protestant, the Rev. G. W. Morris, at 10:30 and the Rev. G. F. Damit at 7:30; Turtle Creek Methodist Protestant, the Rev. A. S. Steele; Walton Methodist Episcopal, the Rev. A. B. Whitehead at 10:30 and the Rev. C. Lane at 7:30; Knoxville Methodist Protestant, the Rev. W. H. Gladden at 10:30 and the Rev. J. C. ALL BAGGAGE RECORDS BROKEN LAST MONTH.

Nothing Like It Ever Known Before in the History of the Pittsburgh Stations.

All records of baggage handled in one month in Pittsburgh were broken in August, each of the three principal stations excelling their past record month. The total for the Union station, the Baltimore & Ohio Water street station and the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie station is 265,000 pieces. The highest previous record was made in July, when 231,763 pieces were handled.

It is probable that the Union station handles a larger amount of baggage proper than any other station in the world. At that station the Pennsylvania system centers, many divisions having their terminus there. The interchange of baggage between these divisions is the cause of tremendous business, which keeps a force of 115 men busy.

The baggagemaster is G. W. Conrad. His report for August shows 80,201 pieces of baggage received and 67,660 forwarded, a total of 147,861. The July total was 123,945. The increase over August of 1901 was about 10 per cent. August is each year the largest month because in that month great crowds of people are both starting on their vacations and returning.

At the Baltimore & Ohio station the total was about 85,000 pieces. This was evenly divided between receipts and forwardings. This is the record for Baggagemaster George W. Dorsey.

Jerry Elliott, baggagemaster at the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie station, reports receipts of 16,900, with 15,456 pieces forwarded. The increase over July was about 5 per cent. July was the record month, so that August sets a new high mark for the Lake Erie also.

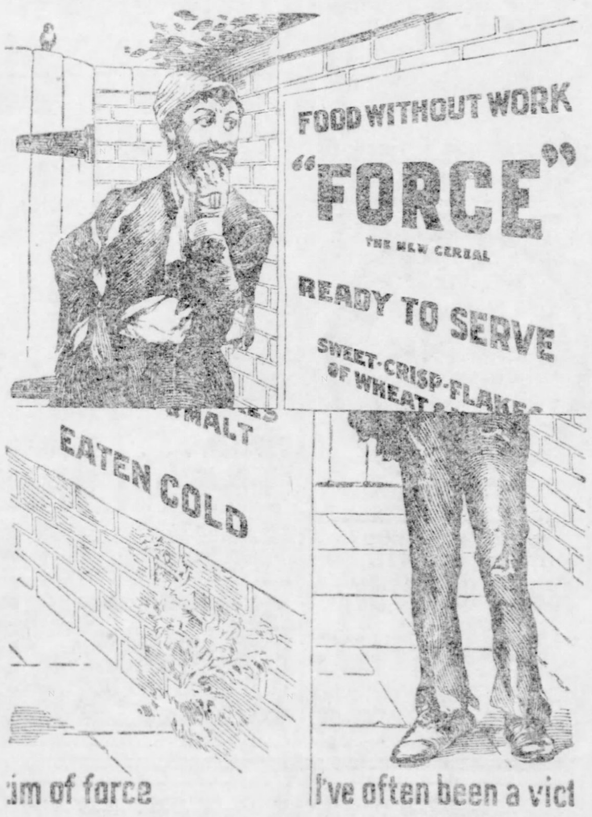
ANOTHER SONG HIT.

The Raymonds have recently written a song that will undoubtedly outsell all their other hits combined. This song is now being featured in New York with most phenomenal success and is past the experimental stage. By special arrangement The Gazette will give a copy free with next Sunday's paper.

Avoid summer complaints. Take JOHANN HOFF'S EXTRACT with meals and on retiring.

INSIST upon JOHANN HOFF'S and you will not be imposed upon. No substitute is "just as good."

EISNER & MENDELSON CO. of New York, Sole Agents.



Most of the people of this city undoubtedly have laughed during the last few days in unison with practically the entire English-speaking race. The cause of the merriment has been a poster, just put out by the "Force" Food Company, of which a picture is shown above.

The first time one sees this poster he thinks the bill-poster must have made a mistake in putting it up. The second time he sees it he is inclined to the belief that something must have been wrong with the bill-poster. After seeing it a number of times it begins to dawn upon him that perhaps it was done by design. This last conjecture is the true one, for this poster has been put up in every city of over 2,000 inhabitants in the United States, Canada, England and the rest of the United Kingdom. When you laugh at it, therefore, you may know that you are probably laughing with the greater part of the world.
